ON THE RAIL.

A Train Falls Through a Trestle

IN A RAGING TORRENT BELOW.

Several Persons Lose Their Lives and Their Property.

Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD

ST. LOUIS, March 6.—The railroad accident on the Iron Mountain Railway, near DeSoto, Mo., which was very briefly referred to late last night, while not at all unusual in regard to the fatal casualties, proves to have been quite remarkable in respect to several circumstances which attended it. It occurred at Victoria, thirty miles south of here, a little after 10 o'clock, and was occasioned by the giving way, under the train, of a trestle which crossed the Joachim creek at that point. The train was the Texas express, and consisted of baggage, express and mail cars, a smoker, two passenger coaches and four sleepers, carrying about one hundred and thirty passengers. A heavy rain had fallen all day and the creek was much swollen. At Hemutite, the first station this side of the trestle, the engineer received orders to run cautiously, as the rain had been heavy and the creek was over its banks. Engineer Kelly says he ran slowly beyond that point and both he and his fireman, William Hach, watched the track very carefully. As he approached the trestle Kelly observed that the track was entirely straight and level, showing nothing wrong, and he went on without the slightest fear or hesitation; but when his engine reached about the middle of the trestle he felt the whole structure sinking beneath him. In an instant he opened the valve operating the airbrakes full width and brought the train to so quick a stop that the front end of one of the cars was crushed in by the sudden shock. This saved the coaches, but the baggage, mail, express and smoking cars went into the raging torrent below, carrying with them all on board. Engineer Kelly and fireman Hach went down with the engine and were submerged in the flood. Kelly, in his struggles to free himself, found that one of his feet was held fast, but at the same instant, and just as he realized that he must drown, the engine turned over, his foot was released and he came to the surface. Seizing a passing log, he clung to it desperately and was swept down the torrent and lodged against a tree, 150 yards below, with scarcely strength enough to move. He clasped his legs and arms around the limbs of the tree, became unconscious and was not restored until two or three hours afterward. He had been taken from the tree and kindly cared for in a house in Victoria. His face and head were severely cut, two of his toes cut from one of his feet, and he was badly bruised in various parts of his body. He will recover. Fireman Hach was carried about 500 yards down the stream, lodged in a mass of brush or drift, and was rescued soon after the flood subsided. The postal car was swept away some distance and as the water rushed through it from end to end the mail was literally washed out and it is now scattered over miles of territory or embedded in the mud of the creek. It is regarded as a total loss, the whole of it being completely soaked and the addresses of the letters obliterated. Postal clerks McCullough, Shaffer and Ryan were badly bruised and almost drowned, and being stripped for work, they lost all their clothes, their gold watches and about $250 in money, which were carried away by the flood. The smoker, which is said to have contained some twenty persons, was swept down about 300 feet below the trestle, but all its occupants are believed to have been saved. They succeeded in getting outside of the car and clung to its top until they were rescued. There is some doubts about the baggageman and express messenger being saved, but later dispatches from the wreck say that no train men were lost.

The cause of the unprecedented flood is believed to have been a cloudburst, which took place late in the evening and filled the creek, which runs between rugged hills for miles, so full that it became a raging torrent with a current of over twenty miles per hour and swept everything before it.

A full list of the casualties cannot be obtained, but, aside from Henry Byron, of Jamestown, N. Y., who was found drowned in the smoker, and Byrnes, a brakeman, who had a foot dislocated, no one other than those mentioned above were in any way seriously injured. Nearly one-half of those in the smoker lost their clothes, they being torn from their persons, either in getting out of the car or by the rushing water through which they were dragged ashore by means of a rope. A farmer named Andrew White, of Bailey's station, did heroic work in saving passengers. He swam several times to the smoker, and each time returned with one of the unfortunates who were clinging to the roof of the car. Several of the passengers in the sleepers also aided materially in the work. Conductor Guion, of the train, and all of the train crew labored like Trojans in rescuing those on the car. The mail is said to have been the largest ever sent over the road, and the losses will fall heavily on this city, where about three-quarters of the matter originated. An express package, without address or anything on it by which it can be identified, containing $37,000, was found to-day, and it is not unlikely that others will be discovered in the bed of the creek or in the woods.

Burning of a Flouring Mill.

ST. PAUL, March 6.—A special to the Pioneer Press from Hudson, Wis., says: The extensive flouring-mill plant of O. Burkhart, north of this city, burned this morning. Loss, $100,000. The mill was valued at $40,000; insurance, $17,000. The elevator and warehouse were valued at $40,000; insured for $22,500. In the elevator were 35,000 bushels of wheat. A number of smaller buildings were burned. The owner will rebuild at once.

Senators Working for Brooks.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 6.—A Call's special to-night from Washington says: Senators Hearst and Stanford called upon the President this morning in the interest of J. Marion Brooks, whose nomination to be District Attorney for the Southern District of California was not acted on by the Senate before adjournment. They assured the President that if he would renominate Brooks, he would be confirmed at the next term of Congress.

A Transcontinental Copper Telegraph Wire.

PORT COSTA, March 6.—The Western Union Telegraph Company successfully laid their new cable between here and Benicia to-day, under the direction of Mr. Davis, Superintendent of Telegraph Construction. This cable completes the copper wire constructed between San Francisco and Chicago by the Western Union, which is the first one ever constructed across the continent. The new wire will be worked by the Wheatstone Automatic system.

Victorious Jaguarin.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 6.—At the Oakland Baseball Park this afternoon, Jaguarine, the swordswoman, defeated Captain E. N. Jennings in a mounted sword contest and a passage-at-arms on foot, scoring twelve points to her opponents, nine. The contest was witnessed by a large crowd.

NEIGHBORHOOD NOTES.

Gleaned from Our Exchanges in Southern California.

Our people are up and stirring, and will show to the world that Colton leads the van in producing the finest oranges, limes and lemons grown on this mundane sphere. This is probably the most severe season for frosts and "cold snaps" that has ever been known in California, and in the face of this well-known fact, on the 12th day of March we propose to make an exhibit of Colton's citrus fruits; no other section of glorious California would presume for a moment to make this announcement, but to show what San Bernardino county can do. Colton comes to the front. Our terrace lands know nor recognize any distinction or difference between one season and another, as the years pass by. The citrus fruit of 1887 compares favorably in quality, quantity and flavor with that of 1886, or any previous year.

Mr. John Hust's hall has been secured as the place to make the Colton citrus exhibit, and already the proprietor, who has kindly donated the hall and thrown in his services besides, is fixing the hall for the display.

The fruit-growers are in motion, and Colton will make a showing on the 12th day of this month that will be a credit to her and San Bernardino county.

Arrangements have been made with the railroad companies for round trip tickets from Los Angeles to the Colton Citrus Fair, on the 12th of this month, for $2 50, other points on the roads at proportionately less prices. The excursion train will leave Los Angeles at 8:30 o'clock A. M.; returning will leave Colton at 10 P. M., after the grand display of fire works and the breaking up of the dance.—[Semi Tropic.

Santa Ana.

The Herald says: Wm. Bush is building a neat cottage residence on Ross and Third streets. L. L. West has one going up adjoining.

Thomas Harris has commenced work upon the two-story frame hotel opposite the packing-house and a few steps from the depot. It will cost $7000. A windmill, tower and tank have been completed.

Two dwelling houses are going up on the Evans tract, adjoining Gardner's.

D. F. Witmer is just finishing up four tenement houses on the extension of Church street, just off Main.

Dan Evans is building a house opposite W. H. Titchenal's on French street.

J. G. Walker is building a house for C. W. Bowers, upon the Blee tract.

Ira Chandler's elegant residence on Main street is nearly finished.

Another dwelling is going up on the Fruit tract, just off East Fifth street. This whole tract will soon be covered with nice residences.

We hear that reports are in circulation in the city of Los Angeles that there are quite a number of smallpox cases in Santa Ana. Such reports are false. Not a single case of smallpox has been known here.

The plan for the new bank building of the First National Bank of Santa Ana has been drawn by Major Warner, and presents a handsome exterior finish. A large plateglass window will occupy a good portion of the lower front of the building, which will be occupied by the bank. The building is to be two stories, of brick and iron, and will be an ornamental structure. About the 1st of April work will begin.

The following were the exports from the Santa Ana station for the week ending March 5th: Eggs, 106 cases, 6360 pounds; fowls, 3 coops, 490 pounds; oranges, 3444 boxes, 241,870 pounds; limes, 376 boxes, 7480 pounds; honey, 292 cases, 39,260 pounds; wine, 8 cars, 188,710 pounds; hides and pelts, 4600 pounds; nursery stock, 5 packages, 860 pounds; apples, 5 barrels, 600 pounds; onions, 15 sacks, 1260 pounds; wine, 15 barrels, 7090 barrels; household goods, 1780 pounds; general merchandise, 18,470 pounds. Total, 547,660 pounds.

The Standard says: The taking of testimony in the contested election case of Lynch vs. Vandever will be a big job as Mr. Lynch has summoned over a hundred witnesses. From reading the statements of both parties in the case we believe that Mr. Lynch has a strong case as a matter of law, and if his statement be true he will have no difficulty in securing his seat to which we believe he is justly entitled. The fact that nearly 200 Democrats were really disfranchised in Los Angeles by the Clerk failing to print their names upon the Great Register will be the strongest point in the case, and upon that point we believe the case will turn.

Anaheim.

The Gazette says: There will be a meeting of stockholders of the Anaheim Street Car Company held at Kræger's Hall this afternoon at 2 o'clock at which it is hoped every stockholder will be present.

The cars have been in operation since Tuesday, and have already proved a great convenience and are well patronized. There is little doubt that when the new railroad is in operation the street cars will pay handsomely and be remunerative to stockholders.

The people of Anaheim are having a grand time hunting rabbits, as the following from the Gazette will show:

"In compliance with arrangements No. 2. we have organized a rabbit drive for Saturday, February 26th.

"General Orders No. 1.—Colonel S. L. Chilson, Commander of Cavalry, to meet at Browning's at 10 A. M., to immediately take the field with a battalion of boys and dogs, with good horses, fully armed with a horn and club, supported by Chas. Stone, First Lieutenant. Captain W. J. Smith takes command of the Masked Batteries, supported by Lieutenant D. M. Baker on the left. Lieutenants Lovering and Field have command of artillery on the left.

"By command of Brigadier-General,
"F. H. KEITH.
"W. R. HARKER, Ass't-Adjut. General."

An Interesting Boat Race at Elite Rink

SEEKING TO REACH NEW YORK.

Senator Williams Interviews the President in the Interest of the Pacific Coast.

Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD

PHILADELPHIA, March 6.—A race took place at the Elite Rink last night which had ten starters and in which the best previous American record was beaten by all three of the men who finished. The race was won by Peter Hegelman, who covered twenty miles in two hours, forty-one minutes and thirty-two seconds. The best previous American record for twenty-five miles was two hours forty-nine minutes and twenty-seven seconds, by D. Donovan, at Providence, in August, 1879.

SEEKING NEW OUTLETS.

The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Trying to Reach New York.

NEW YORK, March 6.—The Express' Trenton special says: The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad wishes to cross New Jersey and Arthurskill to Staten Island and thus reach New York. The Baltimore and Ohio is in the secret and more or less interested. Maps and plans have been prepared and arrangements have been made for obtaining the necessary terminal facilities from the Staten Island Rapid Transit Company. Where the new road proposes to enter and cross the State is unknown, but it will not be by way of Philadelphia. The connection of the road with the Baltimore and Ohio may cause the Atchison to use the tracks and leases of the latter as far as possible. As near as can be learned the road will come into the State over the Reading, as far as Bound Brook. Thence it may go to Perth Amboy over tracks that will be laid by the Baltimore and New York road. It has the right of way from a point near Bound Brook. The Atchison road has arranged to start traffic to and from New York this way by 1888. Surveyors have been quietly at work for some weeks. It was part of the plan to get everything in shape and know exactly what is wanted before the Legislature is appealed to. The legislative end of the matter, thus far, has been conducted with great secrecy.

INTERSTATE COMMISSION.

The Appointment of a Member From This Coast Asked.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Senator Williams called upon the President yesterday, and made a final appeal for the appointment of a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission from the Pacific Coast. He said it made no difference whether a Republican or a Democrat was selected for the place, as long as a good man was chosen. He represented to Cleveland the vital interest that the people of the Pacific Coast have in the administration of this law, being at the extreme end of the long haul, and he urged him in strong terms to select one Commissioner to represent the interest of California. The President said that he was afraid to go to California for a Commissioner, there being so much contention there in relation to the appointments. Mr. Williams assured the President that there was no contention in the Republican party relatively to the appointment of a Commissioner, and he believed that whatever differences had existed in the Democratic party were now healed. He would guarantee that there would be no grumbling over any reputable man selected from the Pacific Coast. Mr. Cleveland gave no intimation of his intention to choose a Commissioner from that section. Mr. Williams invited the President to visit California this summer, and he replied that he had thought of making the journey, but did not know whether he would be able to do so.

THE WHEAT CROP.

Favorable Reports from the Wheat-Growing States.

CHICAGO, March 7.—The following is the crop summary to be printed in this week's issue of the Farmers' Review: Thus far reports from the winter wheat belt indicate that the crop is emerging from the winter in better shape than last year. The crop is not assured from resulting damage of storms and bad weather, and still has to pass through a critical period, but as a whole the outlook must be regarded as more favorable than it was in the beginning of March of last year. The extremely mild weather of the opening days of last week was followed by cold weather, causing some injury in Illinois and in Indiana. Twenty-three Illinois counties this week report the wheat as looking well, while in Brown, Johnson and White counties injury is reported. Thirteen counties in Indiana make very favorable returns. In Michigan and Wisconsin the outlook is reported as very favorable. Nearly all the Wisconsin fields have had an ample snow covering since last November. The weather has been unfavorable in Ohio. The season is well advanced in Missouri and spring plowing has commenced. There is no change in the tenor of the reports from Kansas. Fully one-half of the counties report a very poor outlook for wheat.

The West Virginia Legislature Convened.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., March 6.—Governor Wilson will to-morrow issue his proclamation reconvening the Legislature of this State on the third Wednesday of April next, to consider the appropriation of public money for various purposes. The Governor does not refer to the election of the United States Senator, but it is believed that there will be an election, as the work called for cannot be accomplished before the second Tuesday after the meeting. Senator Kenna arrived here from Washington to-day and says there is no doubt that the Legislature will have to elect a Senator at its special session notwithstanding that Governor Wilson thinks otherwise.

Exchanges for the Week.

BOSTON, March 6.—The managers of the leading clearing-house of the United States report total gross exchanges for the week ending March 5, 1887, to be $1,054,839,596, increase 6.3.

THE REAPER.

Decease of Mrs. Cleveland's Grandmother.

DETROIT, March 6.—Mrs. Ruth H. Harmon, 75 years of age, mother of Mrs. Folsom and grandmother to Mrs. Grover Cleveland, died at Jackson, Mich., at 10 o'clock this morning. Mrs. Folsom was with her for some time previous to her death, and the President and Mrs. Cleveland are expected to attend the funeral. Mrs. Harmon will be buried at Batavia, N. Y.

A Prominent K. of L. Dead.

PHILADELPHIA, March 7.—William Coke, one of the seven men who organized the Knights of Labor, died to-day of failure of the heart's action, aged 63 years.

Death of Mrs. Beck.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Mrs. Beck, wife of Senator Beck, died in this city this evening.

A Fruit Vessel Wrecked.

CAMDEN, N. J., March 6.—It is stated that a steamer bound for northern ports has been wrecked off the New Jersey coast, during the storm of Thursday last. The ocean beach, between Barnegat inlet and Shaside Park, is strewn with wreckage. Southern fruits and early vegetables, in crates and barrels, are washing ashore in the surf.

A Bark Given Up for Lost.

PHILADELPHIA, March 6.—The Italian bark Carlotta, hence for Queenstown, eighty-eight days out, has been given up as lost by her consignees. She carried a cargo of wheat valued at $26,000, and had a crew of twelve men.

Demise of Commodore Lull.

HARTFORD, CONN., March 6.—Information has been received by relatives in this city of the death, yesterday of Commodore E. P. Lull, of the United States Navy at Pensacola Naval Station.

Pasadena.

The Union says: Bayard T. Smith is having plans made for a fine residence on the Woodbury tract. F. L. Roehrig is the architect, and we understand it will be one of the finest buildings in Pasadena.

A lot opposite the South Pasadena schoolhouse has been donated by Dr. Raab for a library and reading-room, and he proposes to add $100 to this gift, provided a building to cost not less than $1000 is erected upon the lot. This is a generous offer that the people of South Pasadena should be prompt in accepting by immediately subscribing the sum required to build.

An Editor Married.

Mr. Tebbetts, of the Independent, hied him away to the coast metropolis and married last week. He and his bride arrived home on last Saturday's steamer. When Tebbetts came down the gangplank holding his new wife with one arm and carrying a large-sized baby wagon under the other, the boys undertook to joke him, but the old gentleman settled them by quoting a famous passage from Washington's farewell address, when the Father of his Country advised his countrymen to prepare for war in peace.—Santa Barbara Herald.

Sales at Ontario.

The totals for the month of February are greater than for any previous month in the history of the colony. Improved property, 118½ acres, one town lot, $61,000; unimproved, 535 acres, 34 town lots, $208,770; 78 transfers, 653½ acres, 35 town lots, $269,770. Nearly $10,000 per day! We thought January beat the record, but the totals then were 73 transfers, 485 acres, 37 town lots, $193,365. If this showing doesn't indicate something like a boom, we don't know what does.—[Record.

Orange Depot Report.

ORANGE, March 3, 1887.

The following freight was forwarded from here during the week ending February 26, 1887.

Oranges, 641 boxes, 38,800 pounds; eggs, 27 cases, 1880 pounds; poultry, 1 coop, 160 pounds; raisins, 1123 boxes, 26,110 pounds; merchandise, 1800 pounds; nursery stock, 3671 packages, 48,290 pounds; household goods, 1 car, 20,000 pounds. Total, 135,240 pounds. B. C. COONS, Agent.—[Orange Tribune.

A New Company.

A new company, under the name of the "Santa Barbara Development Company," has been incorporated with a capital of $500,000, divided into 5000 shares. W. N. Hawley takes 1600 shares; A. N. Towne, 200 shares; S. W. Backus, 100 shares; W. A. Hawley, 50 shares and T. S. Hawley, 50 shares, making $200,000 actually subscribed.—[Herald.

Girlish-looking toilets are made of cream-colored lace over surah, with belt and bretelles of ruby, pale blue or golden brown velvet. Others are made of white embroidered India silk, with Madonna waist, having a half low rounding neck, with white crêpe lisse folds as a garniture to the edge. At the belt is a silver girdle, with a large cluster of white roses and maidenhair fern thrust through with stems showing far below the belt.—[N. Y. Post.

Come When it Feels Like It.

"Making haste slowly" seems to be the motto of the railroad company. The road bed has been completed to this place for several days, but there seems to be a hitch in the work of laying ties and rails. Last week we were informed that an ample supply of the latter had been received at Newhall to finish the road into town, and that by the present date the scream of the fiery and untamed iron-horse would be awakening the echoes herabouts. But such is not the case, the ties and rails are unlaid for several miles out of town and we have not heard any screaming or screeching yet. We shall not submit any more prediction on the subject. The railroad may come in to town now whenever it feels like it.—[Ventura Democrat.

Encouraging.

W. D. Gelette and W. E. Ward, registering from Oakland, have been in Escondido divers and sundry times recently, and it has finally leaked out that they are connected with the Southern Pacific Railway Company. In point of fact, Mr. Gelette holds a position next to that of Chief Engineer of that road. Their exact business here can only be surmised, but of course it has bearing on the proposed extension of the Southern Pacific through Escondido. If it is right-of-way the company is after, it need have no fears about getting across both Escondido and San Marcos, free of expense.—[Escondido Times.

The Leaders of the Rustchuk Revolt Shot.

CONSUL-GENERAL HEAP DEAD.

The Truth About the Topolobampo Told—Unfit for Human Beings.

Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.

RUSTCHUK, March 6.—Nine officers and civilians concerned in the recent revolt were shot here this morning. The soldiers will be tried to-morrow.

Death of a Consul-General.

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 6.—Mr. G. Harris Heap, the United States Consul-General here, died this morning.

A HELL UPON EARTH.

This is Topolobampo, According to the Report of Colonists.

BENSON, March 6.—L. H. Hawkins, the attorney of the Topolobampo Colony, with his family, Mr. Eaton, one of the directors, with his family, and Mr. Turner arrived here this evening just from Topolobampo. They all unite in saying that every statement made by Owen about the country and the harbor is false; that lands cannot be irrigated for less than $400,000; that smallpox prevails there at all seasons of the year, and that many colonists have died from it. Mr. Hawkins lost his oldest boy from that disease. A patient who died there from smallpox was thrown to the sharks, and his parents were not notified of his death till the following day. Poisonous insects and reptiles abound, and the inhabitants of that portion of Sinaloa all say that even an Indian cannot live at Topolobampo during six months of the year. The colonists have no shelter but tents, and the hospital is made of mud. The climate is very unhealthy at the bay and the heat intense, often registering 100 degrees during the month of February.

Snowing in Canada.

MONTREAL, March 6.—It has been snowing hard here all day. The Canadian Pacific train due this morning is snowed up between this city and Ottawa. The westward-bound train on the Grand Trunk railroad is also snowed up near St. Annis, a short distance west of here. American trains arrived an hour late. The line is clear between here and Quebec.

THE FATAL FIREDAMP.

Fifty Dead Bodies Drawn from Quaregnon Colliery.

BRUSSELS, March 6.—A dispatch from Mons says that fifty dead bodies, all terribly burned, have brought to the surface at the Quaregnon colliery, in which an explosion of firedamp occurred yesterday. King Leopold has sent a sum of $2000 to be distributed among the families of the victims.

Explosion of a Dynamite Cartridge.

PARIS, March 6.—It is semi-officially denied that General Boulanger intends to visit the northeast frontier. A dynamite cartridge was exploded in an iron foundry at Besières to-day by some miscreant. The building was damaged. No arrests have been made.

Steamer Movements.

LONDON, March 6.—The steamer Chicago from New York, February 21st, for New Castle, and Jane Breydel from New York, February 22d, for Antwerp, passed the Lizard, March 6th.

Bennett at Penang.

LONDON, March 6.—James Gordon Bennett's yacht Namouna has arrived at Penang. Bennett is on board.

A Missy's Troubles.

A little eight-year-old miss, named Helen, a few days ago went on a visit to her grandmother in the country. She became sad after a while because her mother was away. The grandmother tried to console missy by telling her that her auntie would soon arrive; "and then," she added, "your little heart will be patched up." This cobbler's business did not give the expected comfort to Helen, as she replied like a flash: "Yes, but auntie will stay only one day and then the patch will wear off!"

The Small Boy.

I have a true story which is worth the telling. Last Sunday a young clergyman from a young congregation preached by exchange to a congregation which is one of the serene, old-fashioned, undisturbed sort, where the rising generation's undoubted human nature is allowed for in a quiet and sensible way. The visiting clergyman remained to the Sunday School, and after the exercises were about half finished he rose to make a little speech. "I know that you are an enterprising Sunday-school," he said, "because I see you have so many new books. I know that you are a happy Sunday-school, because I see so many smiling faces around me. And I know that you are a generous Sunday-school, because that little boy over there by the long pew door offered me a peanut as I came in." The attention of the assembly was instantly directed to the little boy, who began to snicker uncontrollably to himself. "Well, what's the matter, my little man?" said the clergyman. "You are not sorry you offered me the peanut, are you?" "Did you think that was a peanut I gave you?" asked the little boy, still snickering violently. "Why, yes; wasn't it?" "No-o-o! 'twas only a shell!"—[Burdette.

The Supreme Court Vacancy.

The Fresno Expositor says: The matter of the vacancy created in the Supreme Court by the death of Justice Morrison, then came up for discussion and on motion a committee consisting of J. M. Cory and N. L. F. Richman was appointed to memorialize Governor Bartlett to fill the vacancy by appointing a Judge from Southern California, and to supplement the recommendations of Los Angeles bar, etc.; when made, and endorse their nominee.

Judge Sullivan, of San Francisco, is spoken of in connection with the Supreme Court Judgeship made vacant by Judge Morrison's death. We object. The appointee should come from Southern California.

HIGGINS AND BUCKLEY.

The Two Great Statesmen Meet and Shake Hands.

Sacramento was thrown into a ferment last Thursday when Mr. Buckley met Mr. Higgins in the lobby of the Senate and publicly took his hand. The salute was performed with as much ceremony as attended the meeting of the monarchs on the Field of the Cloth of Gold.

Mr. Higgins was leaning against the cigar stand outside the Senate chamber talking to a clergyman, who was endeavoring to enlist his sympathies in favor of a bill to abolish picnics on Sunday, when Mr. Rainey, who has some business in Sacramento in connection with the San Francisco Fire Department, approached and asked for a brief audience. Mr. Higgins removed his left ear from the possession of the religious lobbyist and extended it to his secular rival.

Mr. Rainey whispered a dozen words, and nodding assent Mr. Higgins walked a few steps into the Senate lobby.

A moment later Mr. Buckley emerged from the Sergeant-at-Arms' room, advanced six steps towards him, and halted.

Mr. Higgins measured the distance between them with his eye, and then walked to a spot exactly midway between them.

Mr. Buckley spoke to the gentleman on whose arm he was leaning, and then they walked over to Mr. Higgins.

Mr. Buckley extended his hand about twelve inches, and Mr. Higgins moved his right digits forward exactly the same distance.

Mr. Buckley extended his hand six inches further.

Mr. Higgins did the same, and their hands touch. Each took a moderate grip of the other, and the whole Senate paused in its labors, while seven newspaper correspondents made a hasty dash for the telegraph office, to get the first news over the wires that Buckley and Higgins had at last bridged the chasm.

A Senator, his voice so choked with emotion as to be almost inaudible, moved a recess, but no one had sufficient presence of mind to second the motion. All hands were absorbed in the scene. Even the hands of the clock pointed downward at the united statesmen.

Dr. May, who has a $25,000 Yosemite appropriation and $1000 raise of salary bill, smiled so broadly that the points of his sidewhiskers waved over the tips of his ears.

Ex-Senator Cross, who is vainly trying to lobby through the Bancroft (and Cross) relief job, rubbed his hands and chuckled so heartily that the tops of his pantaloons ascended until three inches of yellow hosiery were visible between them and his low cut shoes.

Senator Clunie grabbed his Eight Hour Car-Drivers' bill and made a dash for the lobby to congratulate the united statesmen, and Moffitt, the note writer from Alameda, thought of whitewash and hugged himself for joy.

In the meantime the hands of the statesmen were clasped, and the awe-stricken Senators could see by the movements of their lips that they were talking.

The crowd in the lobby grew larger and larger. The lemonade-drinkers in the well fell in heaps on the stairs in their efforts to reach the scene of the reconciliation. Three of Governor Bartlett's brother's brothers-in-law got jammed in the doorway and had to be pulled out by the Sergeant-at-Arms.

"What's up, Rainey," asked an excited San Francisco book agent, who is lobbying against the distribution of the State textbooks.

"Nothing much," answered Rainey, calmly. "Jim Gannon is sick at Higgin's place, and Buckley sent me to ask Higgins if it would be agreeable for him to call on him. Bill said 'certainly,' and went off to give him a personal invitation."—[San Francisco Call.

Downey's Depot Surroundings.

The Downey Review publishes the following:

Unfortunately the town of Downey is located upon the very worst portion of Los Nietos valley. In addition to this discouraging feature, the railroad company owns several blocks adjoining their line between the depot and our town, which, of course, will remain unoccupied for some time to come. The railroad lands happen to be lower than the adjacent country for a mile or so around, and serves as a very convenient receptacle for all the waste water the community affords, causing artificial lakes to stand almost the year round. The appearance of that portion of town, we are sorry to say, is anything but inviting. The view to those passing on the railroad is not picturesque and is a standing disgrace to our valley. One-half mile in any direction from Downey may be found the finest fruit and farming sections in California, and the mud-hole around the depot is but a burlesque upon the rich country lying on all sides. The malarial aspect it wears need not alarm our visiting friends. There is no malaria here.

"Buck to Buffalo."

Yesterday the Typographical Union of this city had an interesting meeting for the purpose of electing a delegate to the International Convention to be held at Buffalo, N. Y., in June. The position is one of considerable honor and distinction and is very desirable, aside from the fact that the local Union pays the expenses of the delegate. W. J. Buckingham, a popular typo, carried the election by a handsome majority. "Buck" had cards printed bearing a picture of a full-blown buffalo, with head and tail up. The cry got to be "Buck to Buffalo," and alliteration proved more fortunate in his case than in that of the late Mr. Blaine.

The Amende Honorable.

There seems to be little cause for alarm in the wild reports circulated concerning the alleged prevalence of smallpox in Los Angeles. The editor of this paper spent two days in Los Angeles this week, and while there investigated this matter pretty thoroughly and found that the case had been very much exaggerated. Quite a number of cases of measles were reported and several mild cases of varioloid, but no out and out cases of smallpox. There seems to have been an attempt made to misrepresent Los Angeles in this respect by some person or persons who are jealous of the immense boom that city is now enjoying in entertaining thousands upon thousands of excursionists and Eastern capitalists.—[Colton Semi-Tropic.

News was received last night that the wife of Professor Stamm was in a dying condition. The unfortunate lady is at Sierra Madre and her husband is in the East.

THE STRICKEN DIVINE.

Henry Ward Beecher is Slowly Sinking

FROM BLOOD ON THE BRAIN.

A Fresh Hemorrhage will End his Life—That Result Hourly Apprehended.

Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.

NEW YORK, March 6.—At 8 P. M., Henry Ward Beecher's condition remained without any noticeable change. He is yet unconscious and is said to be slowly sinking. He moves his right hand occasionally. Beecher's eldest daughter, wife of the Rev. Samuel Scoville, of Stamford, Conn., arrived at the house on Saturday night, with her husband and two children. Other members of the family in the house are Mr. Beecher's eldest son, his wife and two daughters; and another son, W. C. Beecher and his wife, who live at Columbia. The other son, Herbert, who has been telegraphed for at San Francisco, is on the ocean between Portland, Oregon, and San Francisco. He is not expected to reach New York in time to see his father alive.

Long before daylight this morning it was noticed that many more people were on the streets than was usual in the vicinity of Beecher's residence, and by 8 o'clock there was quite a crowd eagerly looking at the first bulletins. At 9 o'clock the following bulletin was issued: "Beecher is about the same; no change since last night." The first bulletin was signed by Doctor A. I. Searles, the Beecher family physician, and as it was posted on the door post, people crowded on the stoop to read it. There was a feeling of thankfulness plainly visible on their countenances that the life of the illustrious divine was still spared and as the day advanced the throng on the sidewalks of Clarke and Hicks streets rendered the streets almost impassable. In the crowd there were people of every station, from the millionaire to the prosperous tradesman and the poor laborer. The expressions of sympathy and condolence that were heard on all sides are a powerful indication of the high esteem in which Plymouth's pastor is held by all classes. During the morning scores of carriages drove past the house, and the occupants of many alighted and walked up to the bulletin, while others left their cards with the attendant. Those who were more intimately acquainted were admitted in the house and made inquiries personally, but only the immediate family were allowed in the sick chamber. There was, however, one exception made in the case of Rev. DeWitt Talmage, who was admitted into Beecher's presence.

At 11 o'clock the following bulletin was posted: "Professor W. Hulmuth, of New York, in consultation, freely confirms the opinion of the physicians that Beecher is gradually failing. He may, however, live for some days." That all hopes was given up was plainly indicated by this, and the remark of the Rev. Talmage, that "it is very serious," as he passed out. The Rev. Halliday conducted the services at Plymouth Church this morning and the 11 o'clock bulletin was read to the congregation. The effect of it was noticeable on the congregation by the number of handkerchiefs in use and the stifled sobs of many. At the church of Dr. Talmage the scene after the reverend gentleman's prayer was almost as affecting. A 2:30 P. M. this bulletin appeared: "No sign of pain or consciousness of any sort; death considered certain, but at an indefinite time; probably to-day."

The condition of Beecher was not materially changed during the day. He is in a deep comatose state from which he cannot be aroused, and from which he will probably never rally. He is lying quietly, like one in the deepest sleep, and gives no indications of pain or uneasiness. His pulse varies from 90 to 100; at one time, for several hours, it intermitted two or three times in each minute, but this evening it has remained quite regular and quite hard and full. His temperature ranged from 100 to 100½, and at present stands at 100½; the respirations number about 30 to the minute; the extremities are equably warm; the face is flushed and has a somewhat livid hue. He is unable to speak or swallow anything except small quantities of liquid which must be cautiously administered to prevent choking. All of the three medical advisers are in full and entire concord as to the nature and location of the disease, its present status, the remedial measures to be employed and the progress of the case. It is their opinion that the history of to-day confirms the opinion they have entertained from the beginning, that recovery is not to be hoped for; that, though effusion of blood into the brain is now stopped, a fresh hemorrhage may at any time occur and speedily end his life, which, however, is not likely to happen, so far as the present indications are to be trusted. His life may be spared yet several days—how long depends on his endurance and the strength of his constitution. No one, except Mrs. Beecher and her children, is allowed to visit the bedside.

No further bulletin will be issued until Monday morning. At 11 o'clock Mr. Beecher's condition was reported unchanged, save for a gradual sinking to the inevitable end. General Horatio King left the house at that hour, and expressed the opinion that Beecher would die during the night or in the morning.

Wm. B. Beecher is reported to have expressed the opinion that his father would not be alive after 3 o'clock this morning. Many people anxious to hear the latest news of the dying divine, are congregated on the sidewalk in front of his house. Helair McNelway, the managing editor of the Brooklyn Eagle, says that preliminary steps were making to celebrate the triple anniversary of events in Beecher's life. The celebration was to have taken place in September, in Brooklyn Academy of Music. This is the fiftieth year of Mr. Beecher's marriage, the fiftieth of his ordination to the ministry and the fiftieth of his pastorate of Plymouth church. Had the beloved pastor lived his congregation and friends would have celebrated these events in a big jubilee.

Up to 3 A. M. no report has been had from the Beecher residence. Doctor Hammond said to-night: "Beecher will never be conscious again. There is absolutely no hope. He may die in two hours and he may last a couple of days longer, but his death is certain. Paralysis of the entire left side is now complete; nothing rouses him. He lies in a state of coma but suffers no pain, or at least is conscious of none. The patient is now merely a breathing machine. Practically he is a dead man.

DAILY HERALD.

Letter From Norwalk.

EDITOR HERALD—The presence of a corps of the A., T. & S. F. Company's Surveyors, between this town and Fulton Wells, taking levels for a parallel line of railroad, about a mile distant from the S. P. line at this point, has had a tendency to confirm the opinion lately indulged in by many persons that this magnificent stretch of garden land will soon be benefitted by a lively competition between these two wealthy corporations for local, as well as through business. Whether or not those expectations shall be realized, they have had the effect of enhancing the prices demanded for land, especially along the vicinity of the supposed route of the new road. Some tracts, which could have been bought three months ago for $80 to $100 per acre are now held at $125 to $150 per acre. There is also a notable advance in holding valuations throughout the whole township, and a constantly diminishing disposition to sell at the late prevailing rates. This may be easily understood, if it be borne in mind that this is really the garden spot of the county, and of the world, for that matter; and that the old residents of the region are just beginning to find out its comparative superiority to every other section, all things considered. A few of these who bought their lands here years ago and lately sold out at eight or ten times the original cost thought themselves favorites of fortune until they had traveled extensively to find a spot for reinvestment. When they discovered that nowhere else could they repurchase equally as good soil with the same advantages of location, water, climate and unlimited variety of productions for less than double or treble the prices they had realized, they returned as near to the old love as possible, content to roam no more, wiser if not sadder men. But the hand of the scheming speculator with a hundred hungry real estate agents in his wake, has not yet been laid upon this fair region heavily enough to attract the great mass of buyers who must be humbugged to become truly happy. When this shall come to pass there will be hundreds of buyers here at high prices where now there are units at less than value. If one were to go on the streets of your city after the manner of the torchlight faker and offer genuine gold coin at auction at par value he wouldn't sell an eagle, because there would be no chance of the owner being swindled; but let him put up bottles of Dr. Frod's panacea with anything else bogus thrown in and he will, in mining parlance, strike it rich. On no other theory than the one suggested by this well-known perversity of the average human nature can it be explained why crowds will pass through and over this superexcellent belt of land and eagerly pay three times the prices for acres and lots not intrinsically worth one-half as much. A few days since a real estate agent of Los Angeles had occasion to drive out to a piece of inferior land some miles below here, which he was anxious to sell to a land buyer who accompanied him. He took care to drive along the highway, presenting the least inviting aspects; nevertheless land buyer was struck with attractive glimpses and inquired about this region. This, replied the r. e. a., is the alfalfa country where they raise long-horned cattle and long-nosed hogs! He did not tell him that the most prolific vineyards and orange orchards in the county flourished in this belt, but hinted at alkali beds, swamps, etc., and then tried to sell his companion one of the poorest tracts of land on this coast, several miles from "nowhere." There can be no objection, however, to this sort of enterprise among the noble army of city agents, for when they have stripped off the husks all around us there is little risk, but the corn will be found.

The whole country hereabouts has been alive with false reports of smallpox not only in Los Angeles but in all the vicinage. So far there has not been a single authenticated case in the country, the nearest approach being a case or two of measles. The worst rumors originated in the city, and some from among members of the profession who ought to have known better, but the statements published in the HERALD have tended to allay the fears and correct the evil begun by tongues which should have guardians appointed over them.

The late rains have given an impetus to the setting out of vines, fruit and forest trees on every hand promising a large increased acreage for the season. Many farmers who were too greedy to accept the high prices offered for hay previous to the rains are now gladly accepting much lower prices, and some will have considerable surplus to carry over to another winter. Removal of Banks.

The Los Angeles National Bank yesterday removed from its old stand on Main street in the U. S. Hotel Block, to the new and elegant banking rooms in the splendid building just finished, and belonging to the bank, on the corner of First and Spring streets, where it will open business to-day. This property is estimated to be worth $250,000.

The Los Angeles Savings Bank will remove shortly to the rooms now occupied by S. Nordlinger as a jewelry store and the adjoining rooms occupied by H. Jacoby as a cigar store. The rooms will be made one and adjoin the Farmer's and Merchant's Bank on the South. Mr. Nordlinger will occupy the present rooms of the Savings Bank.

Wretched, Indeed,

Are those whom a confirmed tendency to biliousness, subject to the various and changeful symptoms indicative of liver complaint, Nasuea, sick headache, constipation, furred tongue, an unpleasant breath, a dull or sharp pain in the neighborhood of the affected organ, impurity of the blood and loss of appetite, signalize it as one of the most distressing, as it is one of the most common, of maladies. There is, however, a benign specific for the disease, and all its unpleasant manifestations. It is the concurrent testimony of the public and the medical profession, that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a medicine which achieves results speedily felt, thorough and benign. Besides rectifying liver disorder, it invigorates the feeble, conquers kidney and bladder complaints, and hastens the convalescence of those recovering from enfeebling disease. Moreover, it is the grand specific for fever and ague.

Over-Worked Women.

For "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated school teachers, milliners, seamstresses, housekeepers, and over-worked women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all restorative tonics. It is not a "Cure-all," but admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most potent Specific for all those Chronic Weaknesses and Diseases peculiar to women. It is a powerful, general as well as uterine, tonic and nervine, and imparts vigor and strength to the whole system. It promptly cures weakness of stomach, indigestion, bloating, weak back, nervous prostration, debility and sleeplessness, in either sex. Favorite prescription is sold by druggists under our positive guarantee. See wrapper around bottle. Price $1 a bottle, or six bottles for $5.

How's Your Liver?

Is the Oriental salutation, knowing that good health cannot exist without a healthy Liver. When the Liver is torpid the Bowels are sluggish and constipated, the food lies in the stomach undigested, poisoning the blood; frequent headache ensues; a feeling of lassitude, despondency and nervousness indicate how the whole system is deranged. Simmons Liver Regulator has been the means of restoring more people to health and happiness by giving them a healthy Liver than any agency known on earth. It acts with extraordinary power and efficacy.

NEVER BEEN DISAPPOINTED.

As a general family remedy for Dyspepsia, Torpid Liver, Constipation, etc., I hardly ever use anything else, and have never been disappointed in the effect produced; it seems to be almost a perfect cure for all diseases of the Stomach and Bowels.

MEDICAL INHALATION

Combined with Constitutional Remedies.

OUR TREATMENT OF THE DISEASES of the respiratory passages consists in the employment of Medical Inhalation for its direct effects on the diseased organs; and, at the same time, adopting such hygienic measures and administering such medicines by the stomach as will most effectually purify the blood, give tone to the nervous system, and build up and strengthen the general constitution. In other words, we employ combined local and general treatment.

What is Medical Inhalation? Before stating briefly what Medical Inhalation is, we propose, in as few words as possible, to state clearly what it is not.

Medical Inhalation is not a cure-all, a nostrum, or a panacea. It is not a specific remedy for any disease. It is not a quack medicine, or advertised to cure any or all the ills that flesh is heir to, and intended to fill the pockets of its proprietors. It is not a talisman, whose possession insures health to its possessor without the intervention of sense or judgment. Medical Inhalation is none of these things.

Medical Inhalation is simply and solely a method of taking medicines by inhaling or breathing them into the lungs instead of swallowing them into the stomach. By Inhalation, the proper medicines are applied directly to the seat of the disease, in the nose, throat or lungs; and it is clear to every reasoning person how peculiarly applicable Inhalation is in the disorders of the organs named. If you have scalded or burned the surface of the body, or wounded any limb or member, you do not swallow the remedy intended to heal the disorganized tissue. On the contrary, you apply it directly to the seat of the wound or injury. Why, then, when suffering from catarrh of the nasal passages or throat, or afflicted with ulceration of the lungs, should you rely on medicines taken into the stomach?

Medical Inhalation not only applies the proper healing remedies to the seat of the disease, but it applies the remedy in the gaseous or vaporous form, in which form, as is well known, medicines act most powerfully. How much greater, for example, is the effect of a drachm of chloroform, when inhaled or breathed, than many times the quantity when swallowed into the stomach. The same is true of chlorine, of iodine, and of many other substances. By inhalation the medicine is not poured into the stomach and thence sent wandering through the system in search of a malady which may be mainly or entirely a local one; but by this method the proper remedy is applied directly to the diseased organ. Who, after studying the anatomy of the lungs, can doubt that inflammation and ulceration of the air-tubes and air-cells, the direct application of the healing medicine by inhalation to the diseased parts, is the correct and rational method of treatment? Who, on the other hand, can be so irrational as to believe that the proper and direct way to reach the diseased surfaces of the air-passages in this case, is by the way of the stomach? Physiology teaches us that the membrane, or skin, lining the air-passages of the nose, throat and lungs, is only a slightly modified form of the same structure as that which covers the external surface of the body. Why, then, should local treatment be proper and necessary for inflammations, congestions and ulcerations of the one and not be equally so in the case of the other?

Our experience and success in treating diseases of the nose, throat and lungs, demonstrates, beyond all question, that the true scientific treatment of these diseases is that treatment which combines the local effects of medical inhalation with the constitutional effects of systematic remedies, given in the usual way by the stomach. One or both methods must be adopted as the circumstances demand, and such remedies must be employed as the experience and judgment of the physician have proved to be proper in each particular case.

Medical Advocates of Inhalation.

Physicians who were educated twenty years ago or more, and who have not kept up with the times in the advance in medical science, have very little idea of the great importance all leading writers now give to Medical Inhalation in the treatment of pulmonary diseases. To such an extent is this true that no patient should intrust his case to any physician who is not well prepared and thoroughly equipped with everything necessary for the administering of the proper remedies by the method of inhalation.

The numerous cures effected by inhalation in cases seemingly past all help, and the uniform success attending its use in diseases of the respiratory organs, renders it obligatory on every honest physician to at once apply himself to gain a practical knowledge of the Inhalation, or, if that is not possible, he is at least bound to decline to treat such cases.

Among the most eminent physicians of the age who are fully awakened to the value of Medical Inhalation in these diseases are the following:

The celebrated Dr. Burdon Saunderson; Dr. La Roche, of the Paris Academy of Medicine; Dr. Frederick Langhaus, of Berlin; Drs. Klebs and Tommasi-Crudeli; Sir Archibald Dickson, of Edinburgh, Scotland; Dr. Eichler, Dr. Cameron, Dr. Gurdon Buck, Prof. Albert Lehert, the celebrated Dr. Hughlings Jackson, the venerable Dr. Robert Dickinson, Prof. Thierfelder, Spencer Wells, Dr. Hilton Flagge, Dr. G. P. Wood, Drs. Fritsch and Hitzig, Dr Fothergill, Dr. Richard Thompson, Dr. R. S Carpenter, Drs. Anstie, Ball, Fuller, Lancereaux, Krauss, Huguenie, Heller, Orth, Corrigan, Fenwick, and many others.

With scarcely a single exception every medical authority of eminence recognizes the wonderful potency of this new method, and the coming generation of physicians are certain to be thoroughly educated therein. At present it is only a few physicians here and there who have made "Diseases of Respiration" a life study that are fitted in any way to employ the wonderful resources of Medical Inhalation in the cure of these diseases.

The Curability of Consumption.

For five years the celebrated Dr. I. H. Bennet was pathologist to the Royal Infirmary of Edinburgh, and in his great work on "Consumption" he makes the following statement:

"During this period I made upwards of 2000 post-mortem examinations of persons dying from various diseases, and I was constantly meeting with cases in which I found cavities in the lungs from consumption, which had evidently healed up or cicatrized years before the death of the subject. Nature did not seem to have been successful in restoring the wasted lung-substance, but the cavities were dried up, the progress of the disease arrested, and the subject lived for years, with diminished lung power it is true, but otherwise in good health."

FORTUNATE CHILDREN.

A Seemingly Trifling Gift Proves a Source of Wealth.

The singular manner in which wealth comes suddenly and unexpectedly to some people, and the equally singular circumstances by which others have the much-sought-for key in their hands, and unknowingly pass it to some one else, are events of every day life, and yet in some cases the facts form an interesting chapter of incidents well worth narrating. A case in point occurred in Oakland during the present month, in which a widow named Morris and her two little children were the parties interested. On the afternoon of last New Year's Day, Angus M. Robinson, of St. Louis, Mo., and a brother of Mrs. Morris, while on a visit to San Fransisco on business, availed himself of the opportunity to make a New Year's call on his sister across the bay. While there a neighbor came in for a few minutes, and in the course of conversation remarked that he had been quite lucky during the last month of the old year in drawing $100 in The Louisiana Lottery. Shortly after the neighbor's departure the subject of the Lottery was again referred to in the conversation between Mrs. Morris and her brother. The latter remarked that he bought tickets regularly every month, but had drawn but two small prizes, one of $50 and one of $20. At this moment Mrs. Morris's two little children came running into the room, and Mr. Robinson suggested to his sister that he had a number of coupons in his pocket, and that he would give her one apiece for the children. The tickets were received, and but little thought of them for some time. About the date of the drawing on the 11th inst., Mrs. Morris made a note of the two numbers, 91,960 and 39,644, and watched for the first published intelligence. On the next day after the drawing a few of the numbers winning large prizes were published, and in an interview with a reporter a few days ago the lady said: "Why, you cannot imagine my surprise when I read one of those two numbers at the head of the list. I had to read it over and over again before I could believe my own eyes. But it turned out to be the truth, and I forwarded the ticket to New Orleans for collection. It was 91,960, and it drew $15,000. The money was promptly paid, and I received it a few days ago. It is to be invested for the benefit of my two little ones, and by the time they reach maturity it will amount to a handsome sum to start them on life's voyage."—[San Francisco (Cal) Call, January 30.

Baseball.

The match between the Los Angeles and the Pomona nines yesterday afternoon was not very spirited. In the first place the Pomona nine was not full, only five of its members being present, and the other four were filled in from the picked nine which has played heretofore with the Los Angeles club. The earlier part of the game was more interesting, but after obtaining three runs the Los Angeles club did not appear to try to increase the score. It was evident from the first that the Pomona club had no chance to win, and there was no necessity for hard work. The game was played under the old rules, and but little good batting was done. Only one of the Pomonas succeeded in getting as far as third base. The batteries of both teams were very good, but the fielders did not have much chance to disclose their merits. The score at the close was as follows:

INNINGS:	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	TOTAL.
Los Angeles	0	2	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	3

A Blessing to the Human Race.

California with her extensive and never failing wheat fields are a great blessing to the Human Race, yet Abietene which can only be produced in the Golden State is destined to become one of her chief products and be as much of a blessing to the world as her wheat fields. Abietene has great healing and purefying qualieties, and by incorporating it into the Abietene Cough Balsam as we have, it makes a Cough Remedy that has no equal. And there is nothing that heals the lungs so rapidly and cure all throat and lung troubles so thoroughly. It contains no opium. Price 75 cents. Sold by C. F. Heinzeman.

It is spring. A resurrection of nature's latent forces is taking place. Like the world around you, renew your complexion, invigorate your powers, cleanse the channels of life. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the means to use for this purpose.

Protect the Complexion.

Fine raiment is of less importance than a good complexion, yet the latter is within the reach of all. To secure a youthful, clear and smooth complexion, use only Camelline, pink or white, protecting the complexion and instantly beautifying the skin. Price of Camelline is fifty cents.

Free Tests.

At the ladies and gents' parlors of the "Carbolic Smoke Ball," rooms 3 and 4, over 28 North Spring street, Los Angeles, Cal., they give free tests in order to prove their assertions. Truly, it's a wonderful curative discovery for such diseases as catarrh, colds, asthma, etc. Send for testimonials of our best citizens. They are worth reading.

Just What They All Say.

Hon. D. D. Haynie of Salem, Ills., says he uses Dr. Bosanko's Cough and Lung Syrup in his family with the most satisfactory results, in all cases of Coughs, Colds and Croup, and recommends it in particular for the little ones. Sample bottle 5 cents at C. F. Heinzeman.

Wasting Diseases.

How many hundreds and thousands of people in the world drag out a miserable existence through suffering from the many ills flesh is heir to, simply because they have not been able to find the right remedies. First comes loss of appetite, then begins a diminishing of nerve power, the blood becomes disordered and the whole system is soon disorganized. Dr. Henley's Celery, Beef and Iron would restore the sufferer in a short time, the celery strengthening the nerves, the beef giving nourishment and the iron toning up the stomach.

OH! PAPA DEAR, READ THIS.

Carbolic Smoke Ball

[TRADE MARK]

Is pleasant and harmless. It is taken by inhalation, dissolves on the diseased parts, cutting loose and removing the mucous matter, and will clear the head, throat, bronchial tubes and lungs in a few minutes. A single application gives immediate relief in colds, catarrh, bronchitis, hay fever, croup, neuralgia, headache, sore throat, and, if used in connection with our Debellator Treatment, is warranted to cure every case. Asthma and all lung troubles relieved in five minutes and cured in nearly every case. The "Carbolic Smoke" will remove the local troubles and the Debellator (a purely vegetable treatment) will cleanse the liver, cure indigestion, regulate the bowels, purify the blood and drive out of the system all trace of disease. Remember, it is THE GREATEST ANTICEPTIC REMEDY KNOWN! This great remedial agent, formulated and thoroughly tested by its originator (an eminent physician) while actively engaged in the special practice of head, throat and lung diseases, extending over a period of twenty years, on being placed before the people in its present form—the embodiment of simplicity—sprang at once into popular favor by the wonderful cures obtained from its use.

THESE DISEASES ARE EMIGRATING TO PARTS UNKNOWN,

They Can Thrive No Longer in This Country, Because This Great Remedy is Being Introduced into Every Home.

OUR ASSERTIONS AND CLAIMS.

CATARRH—Cured in three months; warranted.

ASTHMA—Cured in nearly every case—relieved in five minutes, but Debellator Package must be used in connection with Smoke Ball.

HAY FEVER—A cure guaranteed if taken in time. No symptoms of the disease returning. The Debellator Package must be used in connection with the Smoke Ball.

BRONCHITIS—Cured in every case—warranted. The Debellator should be used with the Smoke Ball.

DEAFNESS—Cured in from three to six months, if the drums of the ears are not destroyed. Hot salt water used in connection with special instructions.

EYES—Granulated lids, weakness of the optical nerves, etc., cured in four to six weeks. Relieved in five minutes.

CROUP—Relieved in three minutes and cured in twenty-four hours.

ULCERATION OF THE LUNGS—Relieved in five minutes and cured in one week. The Debellator Package must be used in addition to Smoke Ball.

NEURALGIA—Cured after the third dose, and it will not return if the remedy is occasionally used.

SNORING—Three doses each night, before retiring, cures this trouble.

DIPHTHERIA—Carbolic Smoke Ball destroys the germ of this disease and should be given as a preventive.

COLD IN THE HEAD—Cured in fifteen minutes.

COLD IN THE CHEST—Cured in twelve hours.

SENT BY MAIL, with full directions, on receipt of price ($3 and 2 postage stamps) Debellator Package to be used in connection with Smoke Ball in all asthmatic, bronchial and chronic cases, $2 additional. Please give full descripion of disease.

OFFICE HOURS—Week days, from 9 A. M. to 8 P. M.; Sundays, from 2 to 4 P. M.

☞SEPARATE APARTMENTS FOR LADIES (in charge of female attendants), who are requested to call between the hours of 10 A. M. and 5 P. M., to avoid the crowd.

Important Proposed Constitutional Amendment.

Assemblyman Knox has sent us a copy of his resolution as amended and passed by both Houses, proposing an amendment of Section 8, Article XI., of the State Constitution, so as to allow cities with a population of over ten thousand and less than one hundred thousand to frame charters for their own government. This amendment provides for a Board of fifteen Freeholders, who shall have been electors of such city for at least five years prior to their election to said Board, to be elected at any general or special election called for such purpose. Within ninety days after their election they shall prepare and propose for such city a charter, which shall be published in two daily papers of general circulation for at least twenty days, the publication to commence within twenty days after the completion of the charter by the Board. Within not less than thirty days after the completion of the publication, the said charter shall be submitted by the legislative authority of such city to the qualified electors thereof at a general or special election, and if a majority of those voting thereat shall ratify the same, it shall thereafter be submitted to the Legislature for its approval or rejection as a whole, without power of alteration or amendment, and if approved by a majority of each House it shall become the organic law of such city, and supersede any existing charter, and all amendments therefor, and all special laws inconsistent with such charter. When such charter is finally adopted it can only be amended at intervals of not less than two years by proposals therefor submitted to the qualified electors of such city, at a general or special election, held at least sixty days after the publication of such proposals, and ratified by at least three-fifths of the qualified electors voting thereat, and subsequently approved by the Legislature in the same manner as is provided for the approval of the charter. It is also provided that in submitting any such charter or amendment thereto, any alternative article or proposition may also be presented for the choice of the voters, and may be voted upon separately without prejudice to others. In all cases where a city of the class above designated constitutes a city and county, the same provisions for securing a charter and amendments thereto, shall apply and be in force.

We have thus given a clear and complete résumé of this important constitutional amendment. Mr. Knox assures us that the resolution will be approved by Governor Bartlett today, and the people of Los Angeles will therefore have it within their own power to make such a charter as will meet all the wants of their growing city.

AN ACT has passed both Houses, and will probably be signed by the Governor to-day, and thus become a law, which will prove a measure of great relief to the Mayors of cities of over ten thousand inhabitants. It relieves the Mayors or Chief Executives of cities of that class from "acting as Justices of the Peace, or to hold a City Court, or to act as ex-officio City Judge, or to perform any of the duties of Judge of the City Court; and all city courts created by law to be held by such Mayor or other Chief Executive of such cities" are abolished. The act is to take effect immediately after its passage. This bill was introduced by Mr. Knox, and was particularly designed to meet the wants of this city. Mayor Workman has found the duties of City Judge particularly irksome, and as they are not at all in line with the chief duties of a Mayor, it was considered advisable to pass this Act, as not only meeting his case but that of all Mayors of California cities of over ten thousand inhabitants. All the Police Court business of the city will now be transferred to Judge Austin's Court.

CALIFORNIA WINES.

Sketch of the Vineyards and Wineries of Los Angeles.

Through the courtesy of Major Ben Truman, we have received proof sheets of his third letter to the New York Times upon the wines and vineyards of California. This letter treats of the wine interest in San Diego, San Bernardino and Los Angeles counties, and the accurate and extensive information which the Major conveys in it to the people of the East will have a powerful tendency to advance the wine interests of this locality in the great populous centers of the Union. We have only room to-day to reproduce a portion of his very interesting letter—that which especially relates to

THE LOS ANGELES VINEYARDS.

Los Angeles County, long the leading county in the production and exportation of all kinds of wines, and now the leading one in the production of what are known as sweet wines and still a close second to either Napa or Sonoma county in its production and sale of red and white wines, leads off in an area of 22,005 acres of wine-making grapes, from which nearly five millions of gallons of brandy and wine were made in 1886. The first California wines known in the East were from Los Angeles county, and some choice varieties made from thirty-year-old vines found their way into Eastern cellars thirty years ago, as there are a number of vineyards in the county known to be from seventy to eighty years old, and which are still in excellent bearing order. There are about 3500 acres of vines from five to fifty years old, 3000 acres of four-year-olds, 8000 acres of three-year-olds, 3500 acres of two-year-old vines, and 2005 acres of one-year-olds. There are also 2700 acres of table grapes, and 1000 acres of grapes used for making raisins—25,705 acres of grapevines in all. Los Angeles county contains about 4812 square miles, or 3,080,000 acres. A great deal of this land is watered from three rivers, and lies between the Coast Range and the Pacific Ocean, and is mainly devoted to vineyards and the production of citrus and other fruits.

THE CITY OF LOS ANGELES

Is 482 miles by rail from San Francisco. It contains about 55,000 inhabitants, and has one of the most delightful and equable temperatures in the world, and has already been visited by 10,000 valetudinarians since the 1st of December last. Besides its superior climate and prodigality of soil, and its railroads running in nine or ten directions and a good steamship service to and from San Francisco, the city has a public library, Board of Trade, eight banks, twenty churches, one fine opera house, and one or two theaters, a great number of institutions of learning, four eight-page daily newspapers, twenty-nine miles of street and cable roads, and many other evidences of prosperity and civilization. It is lighted by both gas and electricity, and has a splendid water system, a good paid Fire Department and efficient police. In and about this pretty city are the thousands of acres of grapevines I have enumerated above, and a great many wineries, some of which are as complete and extensive as the most perfect ones in Europe. Of course, I did not visit all of these vineyards and wineries, but made the rounds of some of the leading and most important ones.

NOTABLE VINEYARDS.

Among the oldest and best known vineyards in the city is the Beaudry vineyard, which has vines twenty, thirty and forty years old. Mr. Beaudry has an immense winery, and some fine old red and white wines in hardwood tanks, which have never been put on the market. Kohler & Froehling, who make a great deal of light red and white wine on their vineyards in Napa and Sonoma counties, have a large vineyard here, upon which they make their ports and sherries and burgundies and brandies. The Keller vineyard is a well-known one, and has turned out hundreds of thousands of gallons of dry and sweet wines. There are a great many others, too numerous to mention. The largest vineyard in the State, next to Senator Stanford's, in Tehama county (which is the largest in the world), is the Nadeau vineyard, which covers an area of over 2000 acres. It is three or four years old, and lies between this city and Anaheim. The first year's yield of this immense vineyard was sent to the still and turned out 45,000 gallons of brandy, which Mr. Nadeau warehoused and then paid the government $40,500.

THE SAN GABRIEL VINEYARDS.

The three next largest vineyards are at and near San Gabriel, from ten to fifteen miles from Los Angeles, and are owned respectively by Lucky Baldwin, who has upward of a thousand acres in Mission and other vines; Stern & Rose, (Sunny Slope Vineyard), over 1000 acres of many varieties; J. De Barth Shord, (San Gabriel Wine Company), about 1560 acres of Missions, Zinfandels, Mataros, Burgers, and other varieties. These parties have as costly and extensive wineries as may of the leading producers in France, and make and age most all kinds of dry and sweet wines and brandies. These three winemakers have European experts in all the different branches, including "cellar-keepers," and their wineries are like parlors, while the processes of picking, crushing, fermenting, blending, and aging are as perfect as it seems possible to make them. Nw,o these men all have houses in New York, and so do Kohler & Froehling, and nothing is sent there by them but wines and brandies that are absolutely pure and can be depended upon. This I make known for the benefit of your readers who may have been deceived in so-called California wines.

THE POSTOFFICE.

The Clerks Desire More than $50 Per Month.

There is considerable trouble ahead for the citizens of Los Angeles unless matters at the postoffice are regulated to a basis similar to the offices of other cities in the Union. It is well known that the salaries of clerks in the postoffice departments in other cities receive from 75 to 100 per cent more than do the clerks here, and in consequence the Los Angeles clerks strongly object to working harder and for less wages than their brothers elsewhere. They have lived on the hope of obtaining a raise for some time past, but these hopes were based, it seems, on nothing substantial. Inspectors have visited the office and have investigated its affairs and have promised the boys that a raise should be forthcoming, but these promises have not been carried out, for the advance seems to be as far off at present as it was a year ago. The duties of the clerks here are very arduous and require longer hours than in San Francisco, where the pay ranges from $90 to $150 per month. The clerks here receive the munificent salary of $50 per month, barely enough to supply them with the necessities of life. Naturally enough the clerks are rather indignant at the proposal to ask for additional men before those who are working receive a salary equal to their services. They are all willing to work over hours, but they want to be paid enough to live upon. There is no doubt but more clerks are needed to handle the large mails, but it is equally necessary that those who are working should receive more pay. It is no wonder under these circumstances that there should be some objections to their treatment, and it is hinted that if an increase in pay is not granted there will be an exodus from the new postoffice of nearly all the employés. An effort to have the salary raised will be made before this occurs, and it is said a letter to Colonel Stevenson, Assistant Postmaster-General at Washington, D. C., is in course of preparation. In case a favorable reply is received there will be no further difficulty, but if their demands are not met, there is every likelihood that the post-office will have to be closed. It will be bad enough to have to wait several hours for the delivery of mail, which will probably be the case from to-day on unless some provision is made to keep the men on whom the Postmaster has been paying out of his own pocket; but if the entire force leaves there is no doubt but the office will have to be closed. It will be impossible to get men from other cities to take the places of the present force at the low salaries, and new men cannot possibly carry on the work without getting affairs into a muddle which will cost much time to straighten out. It generally takes a new hand about nine months to learn the work perfectly with assistance, and if the entire force is new, how could there be any kind of a service. Matters are coming to a crisis, and it is important that something should be done. The people do not seem to find fault with the clerks, and they have no cause. Some of them have worked from 5 o'clock in the morning until 11 o'clock at night, and for only $50 per month. The mailing department has been carried on in such an excellent manner that only three complaints have been made for a year past. The main objection has been in the difficulty of obtaining mail from other points, and that has not been the fault of the delivery clerks, but of the limited accommodations and the small number of assistants. It is to be hoped that the demands of the clerks will meet with a favorable reception and that matters may not reach the crisis as feared, and which is likely to occur.

☞ WILL SELL AT PUBLIC AUCTION ☜

About MARCH 22d (for date, see later advertisement) the balance of the PASO ROBLES RANCHO, consisting of town lots in Templeton, 800 acres in 5 to 12-acre lots adjoining Templeton, and 14,000 acres in ranch subdivisions. Also, 2100 acres of the HUER HUERO RANCH in 20 subdivisions.

These are all agricultural and fruit lands, in quality equal to any in the State, with an average annual rainfall exceeding that of Santa Clara county, and require NO IRRIGATION.

Title, United States patent, to be free and clear of all incumbrances.

TERMS OF SALE.

Lots in Templeton, cash, United States gold coin; all other tracts one-third cash, balance in four equal payments, in 2, 3, 4 and 5 years; interest 6 per cent. per annum. The mortgage tax paid by the mortgagee makes the interest about 4 per cent. net to the purchaser. An additional charge will be made of $5 for deed in sale of town lots, and $25 in other cases for expenses of sale, including making and recording all papers. Schedule price of ranch subdivisions average $20 an acre; of 5 to 12-acre lots, $50 an acre

SALE WITHOUT RESERVE,

Providing that no bid will be entertained at less than 60 per cent. of schedule prices; 10 per cent. of cash payment (but in no case less than $100) required at fall of hammer; 30 days to complete sale. Parties failing for 30 days forfeit sum paid.

Parties going from Los Angeles take P. C. S. S. Co.'s steamers from San Pedro to San Luis Obispo. From San Francisco, take 8:30 A. M. daily trains S. P. R. R. to Templeton.

Parties wishing to inspect said lands with a view to purchasing at the auction, or any of the company's land at private sale, will be shown the property free of charge by applying at the company's office in Templeton.

☞ Maps of all the ranch subdivisions of Templeton, of the 5 to 12-acre suburban lots and a general map showing the location of the company's lands, with a new descriptive catalogue, are in press and will be sent free on appliation after the 25th inst. (February, 1887.) Address

REAL ESTATE ON MONTHLY INSTALLMENTS.

Also, a Choice Tract of 90 Acres or Subdivision, and an Excellent Dairy,

CORN AND STOCK FARM, FOR SALE STRICTLY ON THEIR MERITS.

No brass band at your expense; no free lunch or houses given away; no by-bidding at auction sales; no lottery schemes required in selling property that has REAL MERIT; for those who reason for themselves and compare notes as to values and advantages of property we may offer over adjacent real estate. We are here to stay, have a due regard for public opinion, and, in the end, find it more pleasant and profitable to recommend such properties as have never failed to realize profit to purchasers. Among our best bargains are:

First—An additional subdivision of 20 acres (the first 20 having been closed out at lower figures); lots 50 feet front, wide streets, 1 mile east of our city limits. Grand View o mountains north, valley and ocean south, portion of city west; perfectly level; the only tract east of the city limits having its own reservoir. Besides, these lots have a new well, 80 feet of excellent water, large windmill and tank for domestic purposes free. $20,000 is now being expended under contract on grading Second street alone, to be completed in 70 days. 50 acres have been donated for a magnificent college. It is between the proposed cable and electric roads (partly completed) not far from street cars now running. PRICE, $150 PER LOT. Terms, $30 down and $10 monthly installments. No interest. Valuable developments will be made within the next 30 days, after which prices will be advanced.

Second—A beautiful tract of the choicest land for subdivision of 90 acres. A grand view, nearly all level; no alkali or adobe land; near our city limits; has an over-supply of excellent water; on the line of march of valuable improvements. ONLY $400 PER ACRE. Terms to suit.

Third—One of the choicest dairy farms in this county, or unsurpassed for corn, alfalfa and stock; 144 acres, 12 miles from the city, on railroad, all fenced; good improvements, flowing wells; running stream; one-third in alfalfa. A great bargain. Terms to suit.

We have all kinds of city and county property for sale.

Yesterday was another beautiful day and the different churches were well filled with appreciative congregations.

'THE UNJUST STEWARD."

Rev. W. J. Chichester's Discourse on the Parable.

At the First Presbyterian Church Rev. W. J. Chichester delivered a discourse on the parable of "The Unjust Steward." The commendation of the unjust steward by the Lord was not to be understood as at all endorsing his dishonest course in managing the estate of his master, but rather to teach a lesson of prudence by the example of the steward, who, when he found that he was about to be called to account for his maladministration, sought a means to offset the wrath that was in store for him. He knew that he had done wrong; that he had been neglectful and wasteful; that he had brought public opprobrium upon himself, and that unless he could make friends he would be cast out upon the world without pity and without hope. He therefore bethought him of a means of placating the people who could be of most service to him when the dark hour of the return of his master should arrive. So he selected from amongst the debtors of the estate the most notable and influential ones, and released them from their obligations to the extent of their standing, to this one compounding for so much per cent. and to that one so much. By this device he secured the friendship of men who could be of great value to him when the day of account came. The reverend gentleman argued that the divine commendation only reached to the motive of the steward's act in trying to save himself by a prudential foresight; and in this even the worst of men would find a lesson by which they could profit. The inculcation of the lesson was to the effect that we should always try, even out of the most hopeless characters, to find some redeeming quality. It was the fashion of the world to condemn men wholly for their faults, never taking into account any redeeming virtue they might have. No man was so essentially bad that the partial mind could not discover some trait, some characteristic, worthy of commendation. Here was the unjust steward, who had violated his trust, lived lavishly and squandered the property of his master. But the Lord sought out and found in him a jewel—not a very bright one, but still a jewel—that of prudence, and snatching it out of the mud of its surroundings drew from it a parable which would serve as a practical lesson for the worldly. Riches was often the result of this virtue of prudence; but riches, honestly acquired by careful husbandry and by worldly foresight, was a mere trust, for no man, of himself, could ever become the rightful possessor of a farthing. It all came from God, and whilst it was ours to use properly, it was only ours in the sense that the administration of a benevolent trust is ours. It was commendable and right that we should try to accumulate wealth; but it was wrong and pernicious to accumulate it for selfish uses alone. It brought with it power to relieve the distress of the unfortunate, to dispense acts of bounty and charity, and to do good works with it by aiding the spread of religion and assisting in all ways possible in bettering the condition of our fellow-man. Wealth accumulated by the exercise of prudence and in honest ways, and put to proper uses, was one of the most commendable ambitions that could actuate man. The Lord had placed us here to do the most we could with the means He had given us, and if we failed to carry out His design and to make the most of our faculties, we fell short of the divine design, and would be held responsible for the waste and misuse of our talents. All men have their standards of good; with some it may not be very high, and with some it may be of a very bounteous endowment. The man who comes up in his life to the standard which belongs to him, whether it be a low one or an exalted one, accomplishes the design of his creation. But all men ought to endeavor, whatever may be their seeming standard, to reach higher than they think they can reach. For even the effort to do so will enable them to improve upon their standard. By obeying the precepts of the Divine Master and doing good works according to their power, they will grow in riches of grace, and reach a standard in the end far above what they themselves believed they were capable of. Charity, benevolence, kindness, good works, all these were bound by no measure of riches, but could be exercised as well by the poorest as the richest. And to judge men not by their worst but by their best acts and impulses—to give good report instead of evil report of our fellows—was a redeeming trait that would bring those who act upon it nearer to the Divine Master.

SPIRITUAL LAWS.

More Important than Those Relating to Social Life.

At St. Paul's Episcopal church Rev. Mr. Haskins took for his text yesterday morning the fifth verse of the tenth chapter Second Corinthians: "Casting down imaginations and every high thing that exalteth itself against the knowedge of God, and bringing into captivity every thought to the obedience of Christ." The main object of the discourse derived from the meaning of the text was to show that humanity should obey the spiritual laws as well as those which regulate social life. The sayings of St. Paul are not merely poetical, but they are the truth, and as such we should give them great consideration. Man is a portion of the Divinity, and the holy scripture defines the extent of his divinity. Every conception we have of his imperfections may be true, but if we take the scripture as a guide, sin is not a necessary part of a man's imperfections. Dogs are not anything but dogs and horses are nothing but horses, and as such their highest aspirations go no further than the desire to be treated kindly. There is no heaven for them except in kind treatment. A man who does not rise higher in his desires than a pleasureable existence does not belong to the civilized world; but for a civilized man there is a future existence, which is of far more importance to him than this world's pleasure. The pathway of the Christian is that which leads to eternal happiness, and the existence of Divine conceptions of that state is a proof of God's goodness in furnishing us with something better to look forward to than the worldly pleasures. Paul uses the language of the text for the purpose of showing how such a peaceable future may be obtained. When he made the remarks he was correcting abuses in the Church of Corinth; but they are as applicable now as then. He was a teacher, who, when he assumed leadership showed his belief in higher power by submitting his own understanding to the words of Christ, his master. His conduct was that of a just Judge, who decided to do the law, no matter what his own feelings might be. St. Paul illustrated the great principle of obedience, and we should take him as an example. There are many, especially the young, who stop to argue, and draw their own conclusions regarding the spiritual laws, who think differently from Christ, as if they had any right to think at all, when the laws are laid down for their direction in spiritual affairs. These people conform to the social laws. They see the benefit of hospitals, prisons and jails, which are evidences os sin, and consider the laws by which they are filled to be the only ones by which they should be guided and on which they rely for reformation. It is true these laws are necessary for the conduct of social life, but they will not suffice for the mental direction. If they carry out the laws relating to social life, why should not they obey the laws of the divine life as manifested in the word of God? Jesus is the only God we have anything to do with, for through him we have access to the Father. That man is a crank who questions the law of Jesus, who reasons on the subject, who rejudges the councils of Heaven and disobeys them. Is he not a criminal in the sight of the law of Heaven? Does not Jesus say: "If ye love me, keep my commandments"? There is no difference in the laws of the social and of the spirital worlds except in the execution of the penalty. In one case it follows immediately by the punishment of the offender, and in the other it is withheld until the coming of Jesus. It is because it does not follow the commission of the crime speedily that men do not obey. Society, in its legal capacity, can take cognizance only of words and deeds, and cannot go into the hearts and minds of mankind, but God can. If our thoughts are evil, if we think of disobeying any of God's laws, if we imagine the commission of evil we are as guilty as if we had actually broken the laws. God deals with sin in its original conception in the brain and this man cannot do. We may think we are committing no crime against the law, but we are in the eyes of God. The world of thought is as real as the world of matter, in fact more real, for the latter may pass away but the other never. Our thoughts are recorded in the books above, never to be obliterated. There is but one world, and that is the world of thought, of which Jesus is the ruler, and we need not look to heaven to find him. He is a part of us and we are a part of him. This being so, how can we expect to have a right judgment until we submit to the judgment of Jesus. If we hope to be saved we must keep free from evil thoughts until we have enthroned in our hearts the image of Jesus, and this is what Paul meant when he spoke the words of the text.

INDIAN RIGHTS.

The Association Addressed by Several Eloquent Speakers.

The Indian Rights Association met last evening at the Congregational Church on Third street, corner of Hill, with quite a number of representative people present. The meeting was first addressed by Rev. A. J. Wells, who said that any effort to improve the condition of the Indian is met by sneers and derision from those who think that a dead Indian is the best kind of an Indian. Actual acquaintance with the Indian disabuses the mind of the nobleness of the race but humanely speaking their treatment by the white people has not been just what it should have been. Many unthinking people assume that our treatment of the Indian has been as good as he deserved, but the history of the question does not show it to have been so. A few years ago there visited Washington an Indian maiden named "Bright-Eyes," since married to an editor. She was the one whom the poet Longfellow, when he met her, said: "This is Minnehaha." In writing to the New York press she had said that "the only solution of the Indian question is citizenship." That was a short sentence, but it went to the right spot. The government has given the Indian lands, but that is the extent of its consideration for him. The fatal mistake in the past has been in taking care of him instead of teaching him to help himself. When the Government gives to the Indian the right of citizenship the question will be solved. The nation's treatment of the Indian has been shameful and degrading. An Indian cannot bring suit to right his wrongs except through a guardian. Until a short time ago an Indian was not considered to be a man. He had no redress under our law. If he broke a law he was punished, but he could not gain redress from those who injured him. Is it strange, then, that there should be outbreaks when there is no other means of redress except in revenge? The best officers of the United States have said that the question has resolved itself into either warfare or citizenship. After giving numerous instances of oppression the speaker closed by saying that the whole history of our treatment of the Indian has been one of shame and dishonor.

Mr. Rust, of Pasadena, stated that he had hardly ever heard a word in favor of the Indian on this coast. After reciting the history of a visit to a Sioux reservation he defined the new Indian policy to be his civilization by humane treatment. He paid a tribute to President Cleveland by saying that he had given the subject more thought, attention and study than any other President ever had. He had signed the bill to break up the reservation system, to give the Indian his own, to teach him to depend upon himself. "We now have a law to protect the Indians, and we should see that it is carried out." He read a history of the Mission Indians, and asked every citizen of Southern California to see that justice is rendered to the few left.

E. S. Field said he could not listen to the history of Indian wrongs without getting "red-hot." Someone had told him that every treaty made by the United States had been broken. He was ashamed of the record, and did not think he could afford to leave matters in that shape to his children and to their posterity. It was a bad legacy to leave behind. There was another side to the question than the one which says the Indian should be exterminated, and that side everyone should support. He had read of an Indian in the Northwest who murdered a man while drunk and was sentenced to be hunged. He was asked if he did not want to see a priest, and said that he did not. The white man's whisky had made him drunk and he did not want the white man's religion. Just such treatment as the Indian had received had been the cause of all the trouble and the speaker hoped that Christians all over would take up the subject and see that the present law was carried out.

After the benediction quite a number enrolled as members of the society.

THE OVERLAND MONTHLY

—AND—

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA.

The large and steadily increasing subscription list of the OVERLAND MONTHLY throughout Southern California, and the cordial welcome extended to the Magazine by all classes alike give the managers of the enterprise good reason to believe that the time has come for the permanent establishment of an office in Los Angeles City to strengthen the literary and business relations of the Magazine in Southern California, Arizona, New Mexico, and the Southwest.

In pursuance of plans definitely formed several months ago the OVERLAND MONTHLY has opened an office in ROOMS 56 and 57, BAKER BLOCK, under charge of Mr. A. A. Bynon, of Los Angeles, and Mr. F. W. Stowell, of our San Francisco office.

The General Manager of the Magazine is at present visiting Los Angeles and will make a tour of observation throughout the extensive territory to be reached from our Los Angeles office, establishing sub-agencies, gathering material for future magazine articles and securing new contributors to write important outdoor and descriptive studies of permanent interest to all the readers of the Magazine. Articles are now in preparation, or promised at an early day, upon "The Mineral Resources of Southern California," "The Cattle Interests of Arizona," "The Los Angeles Petroleum Belt," "Southern California Flower Festivals," and many other practical topics of immediate material value.

RUPTURE !!

TO THOSE WHO MAY DOUBT THAT Rupture is curable, we respectfully call attention to the following letters, which have just been received at our St. Louis office, and would state that we have received hundreds of just such letters since our celebrated "Dr. Pierce's Patent Magnetic Elastic Truss" has been before the public:

SALEM, DENT COUNTY, Mo., July 10, 1886.—Messrs. Pierce & Son, St. Louis, Mo.—Sirs: I feel under obligations to acknowledge my complete cure by the Magnetic Electric Truss bought from you in September. Without the slightest confidence of hope of a cure, I was very well contented with the effects of the Truss after I had succeeded in adjusting it. I was not able to wear it without a pad under it, however, but never experienced the slightest inconvenience since then. I have continually performed the hardest labor incidental to farming, and have been practically unconscious of either Truss or rupture. I cannot positively name the exact date when the cure was completed, but have not been aware of the rupture for more than two weeks. I have since then lifted my best without wearing the Truss: and have tested the cure otherwise, but intend to wear the Truss some time yet as a safeguard. You are at liberty to make use of my statements at pleasure, and may they be an inducement to many to seek and find relief through your incomparable Truss. Gratefully yours,
CHARLES MARTEL.

DAILY HERALD.

LEGISLATIVE.

The "Herald's" Letter from Sacramento.

Special HERALD Correspondence.

SACRAMENTO, March 3, 1887.

EDITOR HERALD—The scene in the Senate Chamber on the sixtieth day of the twenty-seventh session was one that will be remembered by many who were present and witnessed it. The long-talked-of contest on the division of Colusa county, was the most bitter of any measure of this session. On one side was arrayed the interested citizens who are desirous of a division of the county, backed by a strong "sack" which, it is said, comes from the Colusa Bank, while on the other stands the Senator from Colusa, Boggs, backed only by the strong opinion that the people of Colusa county do not desire a division, although, in the course of the debate, fifteen affidavits were read by Goucher, of Mariposa, to the effect that Senator Boggs was elected to the Senate on the express promise, if so elected, that he, Senator Boggs, would pledge himself to a division of the county. He stated that an impression prevailed, because he introduced the bill, that he favored it, and stated that when respectable body of citizens from his county asked him to introduce it he thought it was his duty to do so. He told them he would be governed by the wishes of the people when he introduced the bill, but he had received many protests against the bill from his constituents, and those from whom he received the protests did not deem a division necessary. He admitted that the petition in favor of a division contained a large number of names, but said that he was informed that many of them were not on the assessment roll, and he alone would be responsible to his constituents. He did not see why Senators on the floor persisted in dividing this county. He appealed to the Senators not to force this bill through to divide the county against the will of the people and in favor of only a small majority in the proposed new county of Glenn. He assured Senators that he made no pledges but what he would keep.

Senator Goucher, of Mariposa, who is a strong advocate of the bill, arose and said that the documents that he would send to the Senate would convince them that there were more promises made in this matter than should be kept. He asked Senator Boggs if it were not a fact that he had promised the patronage of the State prisons in order to get votes against the bill. Boggs denied that he had. "Then," said Senator Goucher, "if you will ask for a committee on investigation I will second your motion." This offer was also declined. Goucher then proceeded to read affidavits from a great many citizens of Colusa to the effect that Boggs was elected to the State Senate on his promise to the people that if elected he would use all his endeavors to have a bill passed to divide the county. Goucher was listened to with marked attention during his address and caused not a little sensation when he accused Senator Boggs of double-dealing. Wilson, of San Francisco, took the floor and in a spread-eagle speech opposed the bill He said that he was familiar with the wants of the people of Colusa, and he did want to see counties in this State divided. The days of secession are past; and the Goddess of Liberty will not be permitted to be dragged down and trampled in the dirt simply because a few people want to secede from the old and well established county of Colusa."

Gesford, of Napa, took the floor in reply to Wilson, and said, in a calm way: "There will be no revolution over the division of this county. There will be no war at all. If there were any war in the county of Colusa, the fighting would be left to the home guard of the county." He thought there would not be many of the National Guard remain on the field of gore. White interjected the remark that he did not think the home guard would stand any fighting either. Senator Abbott also took a hand in the debate. He said, while he liked Mr. Wilson as a Republican, he objected to that gentleman dragging in before the Senate the Goddess of Liberty weeping over the division of Colusa. He hoped that he would permit that lady to take a rest, as he thought her name was paraded enough in other matters, and he would certainly object to Senator Wilson making her a party to the division. He would support the bill because he thought it was the desire of the people. The discussion lasted several hours, when a call of the Senate was had, and the absentees brought to the bar of the Senate, Boggs among the prisoners. They were all excused on motion of Senator White, and a vote taken on the bill, with the following result:

Yeas—Abbott, Briceland, Clunie, Crandall, Gesford, Goucher, changed to no—for reconsideration; Lenahan, McCarthy, McDonald, Meaney, Moffitt, Murphy, Patterson, Pindar, Roth, Spellacy, Sullivan, Walrath, Yell—19.

Noes—Boggs, Bowers, Byrnes, Camisetti, Chandler, Conklin, Crimmins, Dixon, Dray, Hall, Haynes, Hinshaw, Jones, Langford, McCudden, Rose, Sargent, Steele, Vrooman, White, Wilson—20.

When the excitement died away on the vote, the lobby presented a scene of activity. It was said by some of the old-timers that there would be as much as $5000 offered for vote on the reconsideration. This can scarcely be the case, as the Senators have already placed themselves on record, and can easily be distinguished as the sack men. The Senate at 5:30 o'clock adjourned and formed themselves into groups to talk of the adjournment. This being the last day that Senators or Legislators draw pay from the State, there is not the usual activity among them, except as was stated before, among those who have their pet schemes.

In the Assembly fun and merriment was the prevailing business to-day. Half the time there was not a quorum present, The "Well" was well patronized by the members of this body, as when, for instance, a call of the House was had, the Sargeant-at-Arms only had to go into the "Well" and bring them in There were a few bills read a second time, but very few of the remaining list of bills will ever see daylight.

It is said here that the Governor intends to veto the Wright Irrigation bill and also the Stamp bill. These, of course, are only rumors, but coming from the source they do there is something in it.

The Finance Committee worked until a late hour to night on the Appropriation bill and made considerable deductions in the amounts already in the bill. Senators White and Vrooman took particular interest in this matter, and were materially assisted by John P. Dunn. The bill will probably come before the Senate to-morrow.

A rather lively time is expected in the Assembly when the "Sack" bill is presented. It may be considered on Monday, as there is considerable manipulation required by the friends of the bill, and the solid twenty from San Francisco are fighting shy of the mining men as the tariff does not suit them quite yet. Mining property in Sacramento Legislators brings good prices at the present time.

WATERMAN RATTLED.

Lieutenant-Governor Waterman and Senator Dray are now creating considerable fun for the spectators. To-day the Senator from Sacramento in a loud tone of voice called out, "Mr. President." "Mr. Dray," was the response from the President in just as loud and more stentorian tone of voice, "Don't you holler at me in that manner, I am not deaf." "Thought you were," said Dray. "Question," shouted another of the solons. "What is the question?" replied the President. This brought on a general outbreak of laughter. They had got the President of the Senate in such a state of frenzy that he forgot what they were talking about, and so left his chair and became one of the spectators, so that he might enjoy the fun better than to stand the taunts and jeers of a multitude of on-lookers. What brought all this pandemonium about was the motion to reconsider the vote by which the enacting clause was stricken out of the Debris bill. Chandler, of Sutter, made the motion to have the enacting clause stricken out, and succeeded in so doing by a vote of 22 ayes to 18 noes. This sudden action had a terrible effect upon Walrath. He looked wrathy and white with rage. He said that he knew the dog was dead and who killed him, but he wished to put on the Journal a protest as to the action of the Senate in this matter, which remark had the effect of throwing a firebrand into the Senatorial camp. Goucher offered a protest to the action of the Senate, but Chandler opposed the proposition. He said he did not propose to have placed on the Journal of this Senate a protest that was not a protest at all, but a resolution to expunge from the Journal of the Senate the proceedings of the Senate in the action of this Debris bill. Goucher said he, for the first time in his life, had learned that a body of men of any amount would be refused the privilege of protestation, and insisted that the protest be spread on the Journal.

Senator Vrooman for the first time since Senator Clunie lost his voice took the floor and read from the Journal of 1885, wherein Senator Chandler had signed a protest in that year when there were but a handful of Republicans on the floor of the Senate. After a long and heated debate on this protest question Senator White arose, and in a neat satirical speech threw oilon the troubled waters, and introduced a substitute protest that suited all parties concerned, and so peace to some extent was restored and the majority of the Senators retired to the lobby to get refreshed.

The Glenn County bill received its quietus to-day. When the motion to reconsider came up a long discussion, a great waste of time, vituperation, playing around on all sides, finally killed the bill and Senator Boggs for the first time this session feels happy. These were virtually the only matters that occupied the attention of the Senate to-day.

In the Assembly, in the language of Mr. Brierly, they are knocking things endwise and passing all the bills on the file, but as a matter of course legislation, so far as passing bills is concerned, is at an end. There will be few measures outside the appropriation bill that will receive any attention in the Senate, as everybody is mad at everybody else. The Ryland and Conklin contest is set for Monday and promises to bring forth another long debate. Ryland has lost some Democratic strength in the Senate, and his chances are not looking so well as they did two weeks ago. It is said that Conklin has voted with the majority on every matter on promises of support from them in the contest.

Cure for Piles.

PILES are frequently preceded by a sense of weight in the back, loins and lower part of the abdomen, causing the patient to suppose he has some affection of the kidneys or neighboring organs. At times, symptoms of indigestion are present, flatulency, uneasiness of the stomach, etc. A moisture like perspiration, producing a very disagreeable itching, after getting warm, is a common attendant. Blind, bleeding and itching piles yield at once to the application of Dr. Bosanko's Pile Remedy, which acts directly upon the parts affected, absorbing the tumors, allaying the intense itching, and effecting a permanent cure. Price 50 cents. Address the Bosanko Medicine Co., Piqua, O. Sold by E. F. Heinzeman.

Notice of Foreclosure Sale.

JOSEFA A. DE CELIS ET AL, PLAINTIFFS, vs. Geo. K. Porter et als, defendants—Sheriff's sale No. 5273—Order of sale and decree of foreclosure and sale. Under and by virtue of an order of sale and decree of foreclosure and sale, issued out of the Superior Court of the county of Los Angeles, State of California, on the 2d day of March, A. D. 1887, in the above entitled action, where Josefa A. de Celis et al the above named plaintiffs, obtained a judgment and decree of foreclosure and sale against Geo. K. Porter et al, defendants, on the 16th day of May, A. D. 1884, for the sum of $1776 12-100 dollars, with interest from May 16, 1884, at the rate of 7 per cent per annum, which said decree was, on the 12th day of January, 1887, recorded in judgment book 7 of said court at page 382 et seq. I am commanded to sell all that certain lot, piece or parcel of land situate, lying and being in the county of Los Angeles, State of California, and bounded and described as follows: All the right, title and interest of the defendant, George K. Porter, which he had on the 14th day of June, 1876, or which he has since acquired in and to the rancho known as the Ex-Mission of San Fernando, situate in Los Angeles county, California, being the same rancho described in a certain deed of conveyance executed by Eulogio F. de Celis, administrator of the estate of Eulogio de Celis, deceased, to the defendant, Charles Maclay, and a mortgage executed by the latter to the former, both da ed August 31, 1884, described as follows, to-wit:

Beginning at the point where the south line of section twenty-nine (29), township two (2) north range fourteen (14) west San Bernardino meridian, intersects the east boundary line of said rancho; thence north 8° west three hundred and forty-two (342) chains to station number three (3) of final survey of said rancho as made by the Government of the United States and shown by the patent of said rancho; thence south 81° west ten and fifty-hundredths (10 50-100) chains to station number four (4) of said survey; thence north 82½° west twenty-one and fifty-hundredths (21 50-100) chains to station number (5) of said survey; thence north 74½° west sixty-four (64) chains to station number six (6) of said survey; thence south 82½° west forty-nine 50-100 (49 50-100) chains to station number seven (7) of said survey; thence north 41° west twenty-two 50-100 (22 50-100) chains to station number eight (8) of said survey; thence north 26° west twelve (12) chains to station number nine (9) of said survey; thence north three (3) degrees west fifty-three 5-100 (53 50-100) chains to station number ten (10) of said survey; thence north 56° east six (6) chains to station number eleven (11) of said survey; thence north 16½° east one hundred and five (105) chains to station number twelve (12); thence north 66° west (80) eighty chains to station number thirteen (13) of said survey; thence south 86° west two hundred and seventy-six (276) chains to station fourteen (14) of said survey: thence north 54½° west one hundred and thirty-two (132) chains to station number fifteen (15) of said survey; Thence south 47¾° west, twenty (20) chains to the point where the said last line of the boundary of said rancho intersects the easterly line of the lands of the right of way of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company through said rancho. Thence following said easterly line of said right of way until the same intersects the south line of section twenty-nine (29), township three (3) north, range fifteen (15) west, San Bernardino meridian. Thence south on the section line three (3) miles to section corner 10-11-14-15, township two (2) north, range fifteen (15) west, San Bernardino meridian. Thence west one mile to section corner 9-10-16-15, township two (2) north, range fifteen (15) west, San Bernardino meridian. Thence south three (3) miles to section corner 28-27-33-34. Thence east on the section line four (4) miles and sixty (60) chains to the place of beginning, containing sixteen thousand and five hundred (16,500) acres, a little more or less, excluding therefrom the right of way of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company through said tract, the same being a portion of the lands described in the mortgage foreclosed in this action.

Public notice is hereby given that on Tuesday, the 20th day of March, A. D. 1887, at 12 o'clock M. of that day, in front of the Courthouse door of the County of Los Angeles, on Spring street, I will, in obedience to said order of sale and decree of foreclosure and sale, sell the above described property, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy said judgment, with interest and costs, etc., to the highest and best bidder.

Dated this 4th day of March, 1887.

SAN FRANCISCO LETTER.

From an Angeleno "Looker-on" in that Vienna.

EDITOR HERALD—Since my arrival here in the "metropolis" of the Pacific Coast, I have encountered a good many Angelenos. Mr. G. J. Griffith and his bride are whiling away the first golden days of their honeymoon here by the Bay, in an altogether delightful manner. It is the intention of the happy young couple to take their departure at a very early day for Salt Lake City, where they will spend a few days and then proceed to the East.

H. K. Lindley, one of your real estate men, was here last week, trying to get up a comparison of values between the city of the Golden Gate and the Angelic pueblo amid the orange groves. Lindley soon did the business, packed up his loose shekels, and returned to his first love, making no investments hereabouts. He did right, as a few facts penned below will establish.

J. C. Daly, your new City Attorney, was here for a few days, but returned to Sacramento to look after charter affairs and study up how best to incur city indebtedness. He seemed sanguine that he could work out a scheme whereby to pave streets and make sewers.

J. Harry Conlan was seen

"The observed of all observers,"

And all the rest about the mould of form and gloss of fashion. His haunts are Kearney street, and the vicinity of theaters about the hours of matinee, where the hearts of the ladies are set agoing pitty-pat.

Another distinguished Los Angeles visitor in this city is Mr. C. L. Schieffelin, of the Nadeau. "Dick," of course, is here strictly on business, and his eye cannot be caught for an infinitesimal part of a second by the brightest wings of the gayest butterflies that flit around the lamps of pleasure.

It it sad to reflect on the fate awaiting the fair sex in San Francisco. For besides those already named here, is Schuyler Cole, of Cahuenga. His beat is along Kearney street too, in the mid-hours of bright afternoons, when youth and beauty most do frequent this fashionable promenade.

With the above but cast to another role, is Mr. James Campbell, President of the BALLONA HARBOR AND IMPROVEMENT COMPANY.

He is here with great a map of the harbor, the town-site, the dry-dock and all the other appurtenances to his gigantic enterprise. This is flanked on one side by a fine perspective picture of the entire work in contemplation, and by a map of the country around, taking in from west of Santa Monica southeasterly to San Diego, and inland to San Bernardino. These are to be lithographed here and then sent as a greeting to the world to show how great developments are going forward in the vicinity of Los Angeles.

In a very few weeks a vessel laden with lumber for the works will be moored at the new dock along the entrance to the harbor. By the 1st of May ships from any sea may enter the new port. The work of driving piles is progressing in the most satisfactory manner. The Pacific Coast Steamship Company will make arrangements at once for their steamers to call at Port Ballona. The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway Company will send their steamer for Guaymas at an early day.

Mr. Campbell confirms the report that the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Company have purchased the railroad from Los Angeles to Port Ballona. He acknowledges, too, that this great corporation takes a lively interest in the harbor, but he denies positively the published report that it or any other corporation has secured any control over the harbor. Port Ballona is to be a port for the ships of all nations to come and go as freely as they do to San Francisco, New York or London. Its approaches will be jealously guarded, so that any railroad company which may build across the continent or down the coast may be able to run its cars alongside ships and do business on equal terms with any other company.

SAN FRANCISCO IS ALARMED.

This city, which so long held the grip of a most monstrous monopoly on the whole coast, is gettting awakened to the importance of these movements all along the Coast. The beginning of the game which led to her being checkmated was when the Southern Pacific reached the coast by means of its connections in and out of New Orleans. This cut off from San Francisco all the trade of Southern California and Arizona. On the heels of this came the completion of the Northern Pacific to Portland, which deprived the Bay City of her valuable Oregon trade. The third movement was the bringing of the Canadian Pacific to the tide-water at Westminster, on the Fraser River. Now comes the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe system with a competing line to Los Angeles and San Diego. Simultaneously the Canadian Pacific is putting on a line of steamers to run to China and Japan. The Atchison people will at once start a line of steamers from Southern California along the coast of Mexico. It is only a question of time when a line is put on from San Diego or Ballona to the Orient.

San Francisco merchants view these facts with anything but complacency. For ten years affairs have been slow here at the best, and there is no sign of immediate improvement. It is patent to the far-seeing that the

INTER STATE COMMERCE BILL

Is destined to work in favor of your city. The distance from Port Ballona across the continent to New Orleans is very much less than that from San Francisco, or any other point on the coast to the Atlantic ocean at any city. It is even shorter between the two points named first above than it is from this city to the great trade centers in the valley of either the Mississippi or that of the great lakes. Under the peculiar provisions of that bill the "short haul" will have a great advantage over a longer line. Much of the coffee now going from Central America to the East via San Francisco will hereafter cross the continent from some point in Southern California. Los Angeles is the point where capital, business enterprise and trade connections already center. It is fair to suppose that she will be able to maintain that prestige, and that Port Ballona and Wilmington will furnish harbor facilities for this new artery of trade.

REAL ESTATE VALUES.

The statement is ventured above that Mr. Lindley is right in his view of the situation in real property. Since my arrival here two weeks ago I have made a pretty thorough and careful study of this matter, and from an entirely interested and selfish standpoint. When one finds what are called building lots quoted at $90 to $500 a front foot, or at the aggregate price of $2250 to $25,000 for a bit of ground 25x100 feet, he naturally hesitates. The ground at $90 to $200 a foot, with a depth of about 80 feet, is far away from the business part of the city. It is near nothing excepting "Lone Mountain" cemetery. This is an advantage not to be lost sight of, for when the state of the sewers, the severe climate, and the fact that all the fatal vapors in the "city of the dead" are wafted into the bedrooms of the living 100 feet below, are passed in review, we must see how great is the economy in the "short haul" to Lone Mountain.

Business property is held in strong hands and cannot be bought. The rentals pay 3 to 5 five per cent. per annum on such investments. If residence property were rented every day in the year it would not pay above 8 or 9 per cent. gross. That these investments are true will appear in the following cases quoted from circulars of some leading dealers;

"$12 500. Choice investment; rents $106 50, S W cor California and Larkin; 36x75; 2 stores and dwellings never vacant. This is one of the best properties offered for sale.

"$15,000. Sixth st cor; large and new three story building; two stories and thirty rooms in 2d and 3d floors; rents $1300.

"$9,000. Leavenworth bet California and Pine; two story house and cottage in the rear, $60; lot 40x60.

"$14,000. Hyde, bet Geary and O'Farrell; two bay window houses of 7 rooms and bath and modern improvements; rents $110; lot 40x68.9."

None of the above are choice properties or near the center of the city.

IN OAKLAND

Property is held at exorbitant prices. For business lots nearly two miles from the city center, the quoted prices are $200 to $300 per foot. For choice residence sites, a mile from a street car line and four miles from the steam cars, the values are $40, $50, up to $100 a front foot. Here is one parcel far from the town proper, 150x450 feet—there is only the 150 feet frontage to it—with a few shrubs on it, this is held at $10,000. The next place to this, with a good house is quoted at $20,000. In Oakland, Alameda, or San Francisco, it would be hard to secure a desirable residence for a gentleman at less than from $800 to $50,000. From the other side of the bay to business and the city the transit will take a full hour to an hour and a half. The cost is five cents to fifteen cents each way. Most people pay carfare on both sides, and ferry-fare over the bay. This is thirty cents a day. Any one who thinks property is held at inflated prices in your city, and that it can be had up here for a song can soon be set right by a little investigation.

COUNTRY PROPERTY.

All this holds true of country property. Grade for grade and location for location, it is fully as dear here as there. There is cheap property near this city; so there is near Los Angeles In all the central counties there is property from $12.50 to $80 an acre. The same grade of land can be had just as cheap in your community. At Haywards, or near San Jose you cannot touch really choice improved property at less than $500 an acre. An agent quoted to me places of thirty-five acres for $18,000 to $20,000 as bargains. These are fully as high as your very best parcels.

The inexperienced "kid" who telegraphs news to the Chronicle wired the other day that there was a large falling off in February in your real estate sales. Every paper in this city has made use of this false news to sound a warning that the "boom" was ended. The facts are that February had four less business days than January, and then it was so stormy that no work could be done during the greater part of the past month. From personal knowledge I am acquainted with three sales made in Los Angeles in February the sum of which would be twenty-five per cent. of the alleged falling off, and none of these were put on record. Another fact is that about this time of year there is an unusually large number of sales put on record at a nominal figure, in order to deceive the Assessors in making their apportionments.

A Pretty Woman's Secret.

Fear of discovery, when she resorts to false hair and dyes, is a source of constant anxiety to her. The very persons from whom she most desires to hide the waning of her charms are the ones most likely to make the discovery. But there is no reason why she should not regain and retain all the beauty of hair that was her pride in youth. Let her use AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, and, not only will her hair cease to fall out, but a new growth will appear where the scalp has been denuded; and locks that are turning gray, or have actually grown white, will return to their pristine freshness and brilliance of color. AYER'S HAIR VIGOR cures

Hereditary Baldness.

GEORGE MAYER, Flatonia, Texas, was bald at 23 years of age, as his ancestors had been for several generations. One bottle of HAIR VIGOR started a growth of soft, downy hair all over his scalp, which soon became thick, long, and vigorous.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

Is not a dye, but, by healthful stimulation of the roots and color glands, speedily restores to its original color hair that is

Turning Gray.

MRS. CATHERINE DEAMER, Point of Rocks, Md., had her hair suddenly blanched by fright, during the late civil war. AYER'S HAIR VIGOR restored it to its natural color, and made it softer, glossier, and more abundant than it had been before.

Scalp Diseases

Which cause dryness, brittleness, and falling of the hair, dandruff, itching, and annoying sores, are all quickly cured by AYER'S HAIR VIGOR. It cured HERBERT BOYD, Minneapolis, Minn., of intolerable Itching of the Scalp; J. N. CARTER, JR., Occoquan, Va., of Scald Head; MRS. D. V. S. LOVELACE, Lovelaceville, Ky., of Tetter Sores; MISS BESSIE H. BEDLOE, Burlington, Vt., of Scalp Disease and Dandruff. Torpidity of the roots of the hair, which, if neglected, may result in incurable baldness, is readily cured by AYER'S HAIR VIGOR. As

THOSE BEAUTIFUL LOTS IN

The Bliss Tract.

For $600 to $800 I can give you lots 50x150, on the right side of the streets, and within fifteen minutes' walk of the postoffice. Go out two miles and you have to pay 50 to 100 per cent. more. Why do this, when the new depots, shops and railroads will enhance the value of the BLISS lots two-fold or more? I am authorized to sell these lots at present rates and terms—one-third down—but in a short time to advance prices at least 10 per cent. The homestead, with two lots, covered with magnificent trees and shrubbery, for only $500, one-third down.

News Notes.

The City Council meets at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Lucy Smith, of No. 19 Wilmington street, reports that between the hours of 8 and 9 o'clock yesterday morning some one stole her gold watch and chain.

The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad train, last night, was detained about seven hours by a series of delays without injury to person or property. The Phillips excursion, by this line, will arrive to-day.

Thirty carloads of iron pipe have arrived at Pasadena for the Pasadena Land and Water Company, for the improvement of the water system of that city. A large amount of this pipe is heavy cast iron.

Yesterday the HERALD contained an item in regard to one George Von Reni-alto, vender of a gas regulator, forging Mr. O. W. Childs' name to a check. The party referred to was an itinerant gas-governor vender, and not Mr. Townsend, the manager and half-owner of the Los Angeles Gas Consumers' Association of this city.

The meeting of the Board of Trade and Produce Exchange ought to be well attended to-night at their rooms, and a stock company formed to purchase a lot and erect a splendid building that would be an honor and an ornament to the city. This, with another opera house and the new pavilion, will give accommodation to the public that is greatly needed.

Personal Mention.

H. Cohn, of Pomona, was in the city yesterday.

W. J. Austin, of Denton, Texas, is at the St. Elmo.

Walter S. Maxwell left for San Francisco yesterday.

Senator L. J. Rose arrived from Sacramento yesterday.

S. M. Shattuc, Colorado Passenger Agent of the Ohio and Mississippi railway at Denver, Col., is visiting the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Preston Roberts of Independence, Mo., who have been visiting this city for several days past will leave for their home to-day. It is probable that Mr. Roberts and family will return to Los Angeles to live.

Mrs. H. M. Caystile and Mrs. C. L. Northcraft have gone to the residence of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. White, at Pomona, on a visit. C. L. Northcraft is hunting the wild gazelle in the vicinity of the Soledad Cañon.

Constables and Justices.

The bill to reduce the fees of Constables and Justices of the Peace to $1000 per annum, which passed the Senate Saturday, is stirring the officers up a little. Martin Aguirre and Ed Smith, our Township Constables, declare that they will resign on the 1st of May, if the bill becomes a law. During the last month Constable Smith collected in fees nearly $450, out of which he paid $209 to his deputies, leaving him a balance to the good of about $240. Aguirre's was about the same. It would be quite a fall from $240 per month to $80 per month. The boys are both doing good, hard work, and taking everything into consideration, should be properly remunerated. Judge Taney now makes more than $1000 per year out of his office, and would not like to have his fees limited to that sum. Judge Austin is serene, as he receives $2000 per year from the city. The Constables and Justices should form a protective association, and take steps to prevent this invasion of their rights.

Election of the French Benevolent Society.

The election of the Executive Committee of the French Benevolent Society took place yesterday at the City Council chambers. The election of Doctors, for the ensuing year, took place also. Although Dr. H. Nadeau was not a candidate for the office, he had left such an excellent record during the ten years that he has been connected with the society, as its medical officer, that he obtained fifty six votes, a majority of three votes over all candidates. As it was well known that Doctor Nadeau's practice would prevent him from accepting the position, the next two having the highest number of votes were elected. These are Doctors Reed and McGowan.

Winter in the Mountains.

Mr. E. A. DeCamp has arrived in the city from his mining camp, about six miles from Acton station on the Southern Pacific railway in Soledad cañon. He states that the snow fell at his camp, thirty miles from Los Angeles, during the great storm in February, to a depth of eight feet, and the weather was so cold that the water-pipes burst and stopped all quartz milling for a time. He had a dangerous experience in going from Acton to the mill. The elevation to make in the six miles' travel was 2300 feet, and the time required to wallow through six miles of new-fallen snow was two days in most merciless weather. His escape from death was remarkable.

The Smallpox.

Health Officer Hagan reported three cases of smallpox discovered yesterday, one on the corner of Seventh and Spring streets, the second at No. 621 Hill street and the third that of Officer J. H. Hathorne, who will be taken to the pesthouse today. The police force intend that Hathorne shall have the very best of treatment and will put up a tent on the pesthouse grounds, furnishing it comfortably and warmly. Mrs. Hathorne will take care of her husband during his illness, which promises to be light.

The Nogales Trouble.

General Miles yesterday received a dispatch from Captain Lawton saying that troops were encamped in the vicinity of Nogales. The Mexican authorities are making every effort to bring to punishment the offenders in the late trouble. All but one of them have been arrested and turned over to the legal authorities on the American side. The Mexican government evidently doesn't want any trouble, and none is anticipated.

Amusements.

This week at the Opera House will be one of Music. Monday and Tuesday the great McGibeny Family give their concerts, and surely never has any company visited Los Angeles who came more highly recommended. The press, with out one single exception, speak in the highest praise of them. The San Francisco Call says: "The McGibeny family—a talented as well as a numerous one—opened at the Alcazar last evening, and succeeded in delighting a large audience by their musical accomplishments. There are fifteen members of the company—father, mother, four daughters and eight sons—in all twelve children—and the wife of the oldest son. The organization appears to deal principally with such themes as suit the popular taste. Each adult McGibeny is a specialist on one instrument, and most of the sons and daughters are able to go through the whole range from a piccolo to an organ. There is a string quartet in the "family," composed of two violins, 'cello and bass, that give some of Handel's compositions in a masterful way. There is also a vocal quartet, formed by Allie, Hugh, Victor and Fred, which may be considered a notable and popular feature of the entertainment. Hugh and Viola are creditable violin soloists. Mrs. Frank (a handsome woman) and her husband are cornetists. The youngest child of the lot, apparently—a mere midget—leads the orchestra in the opening music, and excites lively interest by his old-fashioned way in wielding the baton."

On Wednesday night at the Opera House, the justly celebrated Trebelli-Musin Concert Company will appear. The New York Herald says: "The artistic honors of the evening were easily carried off by Mme. Trebelli. Mme. Trebelli is an absolute mistress of her art. Art has highly embellished this natural gift in a wonderful degree, adding elegance of style, smoothness and finish, and her own highly dramatic temperament has taught her how to use her voice with great effect upon the lyric stage."

Thursday, Friday and Saturday, and Saturday matinee — the Bijou Opera Company will appear.

A Beautiful Country.

In the course of a drive yesterday we passed through Vernon and La Dow districts, going as far as Florence. Returning we came by the old San Pedro stage road, coming into the city by Jefferson and Washington streets. Everywhere the country presented a most gratifying appearance. The grain fields are putting forth their green blades, and give promise of a most bountiful harvest. It is astonishing how this entire belt is settling up. Nearly the whole face of the country is subdivided into small holdings, and handsome cottages are springing up everywhere. The rule seems to be about forty-acre tracts, and these are set out in vineyards and orange groves, with an allotment for grain and deciduous fruits. In many places are to be seen extensive fields of alfalfa, from which sufficient feed is secured to sustain a large number of horses and cattle. Some of the most inviting and beautiful homes seen during our drive were on either side of the old telegraph road from Florence to this city. Many of these presented the evidences of thrift and prosperity, while not a few were manifestly the esthetic homes of people of taste and means. But the prevailing characteristic of the extensive stretch of country through which we passed was its manifest transition from grain and stock ranch for the few to vineyard and orchard homes for the many.

CATARRH.

THE TERM CATARRH IS APPLIED TO a peculiar disorder of the nostrils and adjacent parts, which prevails to an alarming extent and is productive of very serious consequences.

The most prominent and characteristic feature is a morbid discharge from the head, varying in its nature at different times.

In some there is an almost constant flow of clear, acrid fluid, but oftener an offensive, purulent or muco-purulent, greenish-yellow matter is secreted, which accumulates in the nostrils or drops into the throat, necessitating its frequent removal by blowing the nose or expectoration, and often by both processes. Sometimes patients feel as though their whole head was in a state of rottenness, so great is the amount of matter discharged and so fetid is its odor. The patient is greatly annoyed by the constant dropping into the throat of the morbid matter from the head, and as a recumbent position naturally favors the flow downward, his rest is frequently disturbed from this cause. Many sufferers are obliged to lie with the head very much elevated in order to sleep with some degree of comfort.

In others a tough, viscid and offensive phlegm collects behind and above the soft palate, in the passage between the throat and head, adhearing to the parts with gluish tenacity. Its lodgment embarrasses respiration and creates a sensation of irritation and uneasiness in the affected locality, which gives rise to a constant and almost irresistable desire to relieve the discomfort by drawing the mucus into the throat so as to eject it by the mouth. This practice, popularly known as "hawking," is characteristic of catarrh, and proves as embarrassing to the one effected as it is disagreeable to those around him.

Again, the offensive matter hardens and deposits itself on the membrane in the st ape of dry, hard concretions, which are discharged by way of the nostrils or throat in lumps or fragments of a deep green tint. In some cases these incrustations accumulate to such an extent as to form a regular plug in the nose, which obstructs breathing and produces serious discomfort. So firmly do these incrustations adhere to the point of attachment that their removal usually requires the most violent efforts; not unfrequently they have to be torn from the membrane. Occasionally a solid cast of notable size is expelled, on which there are generally traces of blood, but in some cases the cast presents a tubular appearance, being of exact shape of the nasal cavity. This condition is indicative of ulceration, which, in time, may destroy the bony structure of the nose and produce a subsequent flattening of that organ.

Cases are occasionally met with in which a thick, viscid, slimy secretion coats the membrane of the nasal cavities and then putrifies, giving rise to a stench which is really overpowering and sufficiently fetid to poison the atmosphere of a whole room; and there are others in which all the secretions of the membrane are suspended, causing an unpleasant feeling of dryness, heat and feverishness in the head and nose—a condition popularly known as "Dry Catarrh."

The disease speedily extends to the air cavities of the bones of the forehead and face, giving rise to a distressing sensation of heavy weight or compression over the forehead, especially in the region above and between the eyes, and to a feeling of fulness, heat, irritation, soreness or pain in the nostrils near the root of the nose, as well as in the upper part of the throat, above and behind the soft palate. Sometimes there is pain obstinately fixed in some particular part, as in the temple, on the top of the head, at the back of the neck, or behind the orbids, and occasionally pain manifests itself in the face of so severe a character that it is frequently mistaken for neuralgia.

The breath is always tainted and at times assumes an exceeding fetid and sickening odor. In some cases it becomes so revoltingly offensive as to render the sufferer an object of disgust to himself as well as to others.

The nasal membrane is thickened and congested, causing the nose to be stopped up, sometimes on one side, sometime on the other, and often on both, giving rise to a disagreeable, stuffy sensation in the head, and occasioning violent and prolonged paroxysms of sneezing.

The voice is weak, indistinct and husky or of a nasal character, displaying a sort of sniffing quality. Oftentimes there is a continuous hoarseness and discordance. There is also a sense of irritation in the throat, and frequent attempts to clear the parts of phlegm, producing the sound "hem" more or less forcibly. In some cases patients complain of an uncomfortable feeling of fullness, or a choky sensation in the throat, and in others of a distressing and almost constant dryness, for the temporary relief of which they have to swallow frequently. Others, again, speak of a constant bad or nauseous taste in the mouth or throat.

The stomach generally suffers more or less and becomes weak and irritable; the appetite is capricious and nearly always bad in the morning. The patient is languid, unable to perform mental or physical labor with the usual facility, is nervous, depressed in spirits, at times fearful, timid, agitated and inclined to drowsiness and sleep, the memory weakened and permanent impairment seriously threatened.

The mucous membrane soon becomes morbidly sensitive to unfavorable influences, and in spite of the utmost care becomes affected from the slightest causes, so that at last a breath of wind upon the lining of the nose or throat becomes productive of a cold, and gives rise to serious disturbances of the respiratory organs. Thus the patient is subject to frequent and repeated colds, each attack aggravating the disease by giving it a new impulse and involving a larger extent or surface than its predecessor. In this manner the difficulty spreads from organ to organ, invading the throat, larnyx, trachea and bronchial tubes, until, encroaching further and further, it reaches the finer ramifications of the bronchi, when but a slight impulse is required to send it to the lungs. Catarrh may, and often does, affect other organs in the body, especially those containing a mucous membrane, such as the stomach, bowels, kidneys, etc.

By the employment of proper inhalations in the form of medicated vapor (not steam or spray) we are able to produce immediate and direct action upon the diseased surface in the pharynx and nasal passages, for air will find its way into the most remote and intricate cavities, where it is utterly impossible to make fluid applications. By these means every case can be cured.

OZŒNA.

Ozœna is the professional or technical name given to an advanced form of catarrh in which ulceration has eaten through the membrane lining of the nose to the cartilage of the bone. Any case of catarrh may end in ozœna, but it most frequently occurs in those who are naturally scrofulous. The discharge takes place through the nostrils or through the throat, and is generally of a yellowish or greenish yellow color, frequently tinged with blood and almost always attended by an offensive smell. In the language of Dr. Wood, of Philadelphia, "The disease is one of the most obdurate and disagreeable which the physician has to encounter. In bad cases the breath of the patient becomes so revolting as to isolate him from society and to render him an object of disgust even to himself." In some cases pieces of bone become separated and slough off, leaving deep, unhealthy ulcers, which secrete a bloody matter, and are extremely difficult to heal. After ozœna has continued some time the sense of smell usually becomes impaired and often lost. Deafness is one of its most common consequences, and results from its extension through the eustachian tubes to the internal ear. Pains in the head and over the frontal sinuses, impairing memory, and even insanity frequently spring from its extension to the brain. The greatest danger, however, because the most common, is that it will extend downward and affect the lungs. In most cases of pulmonary disease catarrh is present in some degree, and in many instances it causes a large share of the patient's discomfort.

Besides these grave consequences, all of which are liable to spring from scrofulous catarrh or ozœna, there are others which, if less dangerous, are sufficiently unpleasant. It occasions great unhappiness to thousands of both sexes, by isolating them and preventing their settlement in life. An offensive running from the nose, with foul breath, is about as great a calamity as can befall young people, for no young person should ever think of marrying while afflicted with catarrh.

Those who visit Southern California, after trying every known remedy, and failing in obtaining health through climatic changes alone, would do well to try this wonderful system, which is revolutionizing the whole medical science and effecting cures in this very city in persons given up to die.
